Mrs. Ford Would Accept 'Affair' By Daughter

Sees Complete Freedom Among Young People; Would Want 'Worthwhile' Encounter

NEW YORK (AP) — First Lady Betty Ford was asked what she would think if daughter Susan came to her and said, "Mother, I'm having an affair."

"Well, I wouldn't be surprised," said Mrs. Ford. "I think she's a perfectly normal human being like all young girls. If she wanted to continue, and I would certainly counsel and advise her on the subject, and I'd want to know pretty much about the young man she was having the affair with, whether it was a worthwhile encounter or whether it was going to be one of those — She's pretty young to start affairs."

But CBS newsmen Morley Safer, in the "60 Minutes" interview with Mrs. Ford at the White House that was televised Sunday, pointed out, 18-year-old Susan Ford was "nevertheless, old enough."

"Oh, yes," Mrs. Ford said. "She's a big girl."

Safer asked if such a move by Susan, in light of her rearing, would cause Mrs. Ford surprise.

"No," said the First Lady. "I think there's a complete freedom among the young people now. And in some cases, I'm not so sure that, perhaps, there would be less divorce."

Safer asked if Mrs. Ford had worried about her children being involved with narcotics.

"No," she replied. "I really haven't, because we've always discussed it and I would have detected it. And immediately, I would have done something about it. We brought them up with a certain moral value that where their friends might be taking drugs now, I'm not saying they haven't tried it, because I'm sure they've all probably tried marijuana. The last time I said that I got the devil from one of them because he said, 'How do you know I've tried marijuana? I've never touched it before.' And I said, 'I

Blood In Car Is Not Hoffa's

BY BROOKS JACKSON
Associated Press Writer

DETROIT (AP) — The FBI continued its search for Jimmy Hoffa today after a promising lead went nowhere.

Bloodstains on the upholstery of a seized auto proved to be fish gore, a source close to the investigation said Sunday. The FBI would not comment on the results of its chemical analysis.

Meanwhile, the son of the missing ex-Teamsters boss, Detroit attorney James P. Hoffa, said he hopes for a break in the case soon.

"We are again running down many more leads which are coming in from all over the country," he said. "Each piece is part of a puzzle which might lead to a solution of the abduction or whatever it is."

"We're encouraged by some of the information. We know a lot more than we did two days ago. We hope something will be breaking soon," he said. It was his only public comment on the case all weekend.

The 32-year-old Hoffa vanished 12 days ago after telling his family he was going to a luncheon engagement with reputed Mafia figure Anthony Giacalone and two other men. Hoffa's car was found the next morning in the parking lot of the restaurant. No solid clue to his fate has yet surfaced publicly.

In predawn hours Saturday, FBI agents seized a car belonging to Giacalone's son, Joey Hoffa's foster son, Charles "Chuckie" O'Brien, had told the FBI he borrowed the car and was driving it near the time when and place where Hoffa dropped from sight. O'Brien said the car seat was stained with dripping blood from a thawing 40-pound salmon he delivered that day to Teamsters vice president Robert Holmes.

Agents confiscated the car to determine whether it was involved in Hoffa's disappearance. Sources close to the probe say O'Brien and Hoffa had a falling-out several months ago, and that O'Brien sided with Teamsters president Frank E. Fitzsimmons, Hoffa's bitter rival.

Told of the report that his story about fish blood had been supported, O'Brien said, "That's pretty good." He said he would hold off further comment until the FBI announces its findings officially.

Investigators still favor the theory that Hoffa was kidnapped or killed to prevent his expected bid to regain the union presidency from Fitzsimmons. One theory under investigation is that gangsters killed Hoffa because they feared he would eliminate profitable dealings with the present Teamster hierarchy. No solid evidence has appeared to support such theories, however.

Fitzsimmons, interviewed in Dallas Saturday, said, "I have no idea where he is. I know nothing about what happened to him."

Subplot Surfaces In Coal Country

By DICK BARNES
Associated Press Writer

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP) — A mystery subplot about the missing Jimmy Hoffa is surfacing here in Pennsylvania coal country.

The unanswered question is whether the former Teamsters president put a big chunk of money during the past two years into an anthracite mining venture involving people who have long borrowed big sums from the biggest Teamsters Union pension fund.

Hoffa told a magazine editor shortly before his disappearance that his money was involved in a holding company called Great American Coal Co. Inc.

The listed principals in that firm, who themselves have been undergoing a leadership change, aren't talking. To inquiring state officials, they implicitly deny any Hoffa ownership role.

A confusing array of records exists on the coal firm. It includes close ties to a pension fund-financed harness racing operation now in bankruptcy court and state action to correct violations of strip mine reclamation law.

The pattern is familiar to investigators of other deals involving the Teamsters' Central States, Southeast and Southwest Areas Pension Fund: reports of hidden interests frequently abound and projects sometimes wind up in financial difficulty.

The Hoffa involvement was reported in the August 1975 issue of Overdrive, an independent national trucker's magazine published in Los Angeles.

Editors Jim Drinkhall quoted Hoffa as saying he had put money into the Great American Coal Co. through its then-president James J. Durkin Sr. of Dallas, Pa. Hoffa wouldn't say how much he'd invested, but did say it was less than a rumored $1.5 million. Drinkhall said he talked to Hoffa six times during July.

A 1973 annual report on file with the Delaware secretary of state listed Durkin as president but showed Great American had at that point issued no stock. A 1974 annual report is now four months overdue in Delaware. Great American's state of incorporation.

About the same time Hoffa was telling Overdrive about his investment, Great American officials were telling Pennsylvania environmental investigators that 100 per cent control of the firm had passed to Hyman Green.

Green is a New York and Florida based businessman who has utilized Central States Fund financing over a number of years.

James Millard, a New York attorney for Green, told Pennsylvania officials he was the new president of Great American. Millard was a person of record in a Los Angeles County land development project which went bankrupt after receiving more than $13 million in pension fund financing.

Neither Millard nor Green has responded to reporters' inquiries.

SUSAN LISTENS: Susan Ford, right, 18-year-old daughter of President, left a yard party in her honor at the Kansas governor's house Sunday night to watch her mother appear on CBS program, "60 Minutes." Mrs. Ford said during program she would not be surprised if her daughter told her she was having an affair. "I think she's a perfectly normal human being like all young girls." Watching the program with Susan is Betsy Collins, a Topeka friend. (AP Wirephoto)

Apparently, It's Better To Receive

An attorney with the Securities and Exchange commission in Washington told this newspaper today that to his knowledge there is no violation of federal law in an alleged $5,000 contribution to Niles Supervisor John McDonald by Ashland Oil Co., Inc.

Donald Owens, of the SEC's division of corporate finance, was called by this newspaper for an explanation and said he believes the federal prohibition against campaign contributions applies only to federal candidates.

The Associated Press reported this morning that Bernard Apol, Michigan director of elections, said it is illegal under state law for a corporation to contribute to any candidate in Michigan, but it is not illegal to receive the contribution, according to a preliminary check.

In news stories and newscasts Sunday, McDonald was one of two Michigan politicians named as receiving campaign contributions from Ashland.

The other politician was former Michigan Congressman Charles E. Chamberlain of East Lansing who received $5,000 out of more than $1.1 million in what Associated Press described "as illegal" contributions to candidates and payments to foreign officials by Ashland.

McDonald reportedly received $5,000 in 1967. The Niles township Democrat was first elected supervisor in 1964, and was re-elected to two-year terms in 1966, 1968 and 1970.

He was defeated in 1972 but won re-election in 1974.

McDonald was not available for comment today. A family spokesman said the township supervisor and his wife are vacationing at Indian River and cannot be reached.

Ashland Oil, Inc., has a one-man office in Niles and a South Bend branch which deals in industrial chemicals and solvents.

Alex Dunn, who operates the Ashland Chemical company in Niles, said he has no knowledge of any alleged contributions made to McDonald.

He said he has been an Ashland representative in Niles for about 12 years.

Documents filed by Ashland and released by the commission disclosed that Chamberlain received the payments in three separate contributions — $1,500 in 1968, $1,500 in 1970 and $2,000 in 1972. Chamberlain, a Republican, did not run for re-election in 1974.

The report said Chamberlain reimbursed the company for the entire $5,000 last April.

The filing by Ashland was the first time the SEC forced a cor-

'Yes' Urged On 1.1 Mills In St. Joseph

By JIM DELAND
Associated Press Writer

The St. Joseph board of education is urging voter support of two school tax proposals that would restore programs of building maintenance and busing if approved in a special election Aug. 18.

"The board feels very strongly that both proposals should be passed," President Ray Dumbke said of the two issues totaling 1.1 mills.

"We are fast becoming a self-financing school district. Only one-sixth to one-seventh of our total educational costs are now supplied by the state, so most funds needed to carry on a good educational program must come from local sources."

Dumbke stressed that approval of both proposals would add only half a mill in new taxes, since the six-tenths of a mill building and site maintenance proposal asks only for renewal of a tax that has been in effect for the past five years and has expired.

The building maintenance proposal requires voter approval of two propositions — one to raise the tax limitation and the other to authorize the actual levy for another five-year period.

It is identical to a proposal that was defeated by a narrow margin in the annual school election June 8. In that election, Proposition I lost by 36 votes and Proposition II, by only six votes of a total voter turnout of 1,839 — approximately 16 per cent of the registered electorate.

If approved, voters would continue to pay $6 a year on a home with a state equalized valuation of $10,000. Income for the schools would be slightly over $64,000 a year.

Business manager Dennis Percy explained that the schools will spend approximately $100,000 from the general fund in the next year for routine maintenance — "just day-to-day repair work."

"This kind of selective millage (Propositions I and II) enables us to have a long-range program of preventive maintenance that historically has shown itself to be a wise kind of planning."

"By having this fund, we've been able to keep the buildings in generally good repair and avoid major projects that would require having to borrow money and pay interest. It's almost always cheaper to make repairs when they first are needed rather than wait until they become an emergency matter."

Percy added that any expenditures from the building and site fund are first reviewed by the citizens' advisory committee, which makes recommendations.

Advertising A Law Office Could Become Acceptable

Decades ago before the American Bar Association counted for much in the scheme of things, it was a simple exercise to become a lawyer.

Examinations into professional ability were unheard of. An undergraduate degree, followed by a law school diploma, were not required. The budding barrister could "read law" in some attorney's office and then be certified to practice by his mentor. In many areas the minimum requirement for a license was a good moral character and the 21st birthday.

Once he hung out his shingle, the freshman lawyer was free to advertise his services and his fees pretty much as he saw fit.

Competition for business was keen. This marketplace condition, coupled with the looseness in professional standards, encouraged shysterism and ambulance chasing to the point where the courts and the responsible practitioners joined hands to tighten up the situation.

Borrowing from an earlier experience of the doctors in running the quacks out of their profession, the two units founded the ABA and state associations patterned upon the master organization.

From it emerged the need for a law school training, examinations for licensing and a code of ethics to hound the shyster out of business.

A key point in the code is the ban on advertising. Name, address and telephone number became outer limits in identification.

Accountants, engineers, dentists and other professionals followed suit in adopting a similar regimen in their callings.

Last week at the ABA's annual convention in Montreal the prediction arose that the advertising ban may soon be lifted insofar as promoting a lawyer's type of practice and his fee schedule are concerned.

John W. Douglas, former president of the District of Columbia bar, and Robert J. Connerton, a lawyer with the National Consumer Center for Legal Services in Washington, told reporters they look for the courts to open up this prohibition in the code.

They base their belief on recent Supreme Court decisions striking down minimum fee schedules as violative of the anti-trust laws and a Virginia restriction against abortion clinics advertising their services as offensive to the right of free speech.

One New York City lawyer already has a suit going in federal court to permit him to advertise his services and fees in the Yellow Pages.

While the advertising ban has the excellent purpose of discouraging the duping of the public by blue sky promises of what the professional can deliver for a client, it is bumping against today's consumerism climate.

Everyone feels he is being ripped off in the purchase of goods or services and that his supplier is in a conspiracy with others to keep the price up.

This is the thrust in Supreme Court's thinking on the minimum fee schedule and to some extent, the abortion clinic case.

Connerton as much as told reporters covering the convention that his group feels the code over the years has used its professional requirements to maintain anti-competitive pricing; that breaching the advertising ban is essential to bringing legal services to people who need help but think they cannot afford to pay for it; and that word-of-mouth advertising is unable to fill the gap.

Douglas is more temperate. Though opposed to the ban, he says a balance between the consumer's right to know and the maintenance of high standards is necessary to protect the consumer.

It would be self-defeating for Connerton's advocacy to permit a lawyer to promise Saks Fifth Avenue merchandise at K-Mart prices.

Observations One Year After Watergate Crisis

It is difficult to believe that a year has passed since the greatest constitutional crisis the nation has ever faced, save for the Civil War. It will always and forever be known simply as "Watergate", and it reached its dramatic climax with the resignation of Richard Nixon from the office of the presidency.

That the anniversary has come and gone with an almost total absence of observance or comment cannot be due alone to the fact that Americans have forgotten, or want to forget, the sordid scandal which absorbed their attention for nearly two years.

It says something about the resiliency of our political system and the abiding commitment of the American people to the principle that our's is a government of laws, not of men.

It is also difficult to recall the passions that stirred Americans during the last days of Watergate, and a month later when President Ford granted an untimely, or certainly controversial, pardon to his predecessor. Despite the bitterness many felt over the forced resignation, no pro-Nixon party has gathered around the ex-president in exile — nor, let it be emphasized, has he attempted to encourage one — dedicated to his rehabilitation or some sort of political revenge.

The same would not be true in many other countries.

Not much, it is claimed, as changed in Washington in the past year. It is still politics as usual, and the record of the "reform" Congress elected last November offers little to counter that view.

Perhaps so. Perhaps it will always be so. As Churchill said, democracy is the worst system — except for all the others.

But something else can also be said: For all the lamentations one hears about the future of the country as it approaches the beginning of its third century, Americans have shown an amazing capacity to surmount crises, to put aside honest and deeply held differences and rally together for the integrity and safety of this commonality we call America.

We are more than just the material envy of the world. We continue to hold high the beacon light of liberty under law the Founders first lit so long ago.

'Look At It This Way. We've Broken His String Of Vetoes.

State Legislators Outline Whopping 2-Day Agenda

By MALCOLM JOHNSON
Associated Press Writer

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A revision of Michigan's business taxes, the most sweeping political reform bill in state history, the entire $3 billion budget — all in two days.

That's what the state legislature has scheduled for itself this week as it returns Wednesday for a flurry of final action before going on a long-delayed vacation. Barring last-minute snags, the Capitol should be desolate by Friday.

Lawmakers originally planned to finish up last week. But despite meeting into the evenings, they couldn't orchestrate the budget legislation well enough to finish by Saturday. So they tossed the ball to a group of conference committees and went home.

The conference committees — each made up of three senators and three representatives — will work Monday and Tuesday on the 20-odd appropriations bills. In addition to wrangling over pet projects, they will try to slice some $50 million from the budget.

The cuts are necessary if the budget is to fall within the predicted 1975-76 revenue levels of $3.041 billion. Even so, many lawmakers are predicting further cutbacks will be needed next year to avoid going into the red. At best there will be no surplus.

The state has been operating since the start of the new fiscal year July 1 under a "continuation budget" which authorizes spending at the past year's levels.

A key to balancing the budget — the business tax revision — also requires passage by the end of the week. The measure promises some $190 million in a one-time windfall this fiscal year.

Far more important than its budget-balancing effect, however, the governor's "single business tax" represents a new age in business taxation in Michigan. It replaces eight separate taxes with a single levy on profits, payroll, interest and depreciation.

The measure is intended to promote industrial expansion and job growth by giving tax breaks for capital expansion. It is also designed to simplify the tax system and stabilize revenues from year to year.

A joint conference committee approved its final form late last week. Now both chambers have to pass it again before it goes to the governor's desk.

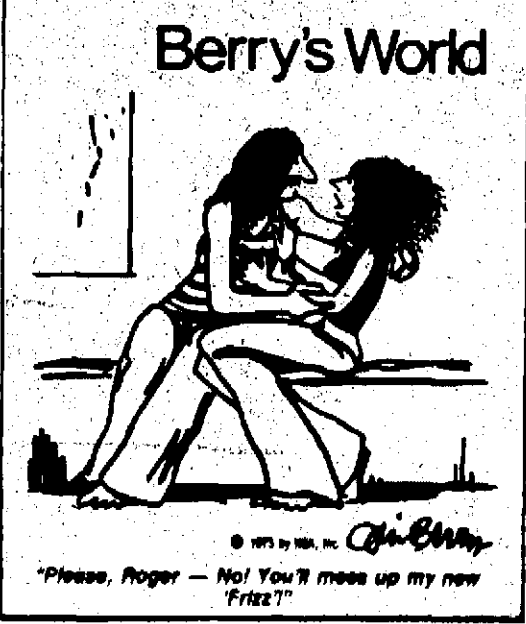

Meanwhile, a last-minute fight may occur on the political reform bill. House Republicans angered over a late amendment, may try to send the bill to conference, while Democrats want to pass it as is.

The amendment permits more flexibility in how labor unions handle political donations. GOP members say it violates a bipartisan agreement on the bill.

The bill provides for partial public funding of gubernatorial campaigns, revamps campaign financing, regulates lobbying and establishes a political ethics commission to oversee the act.

Hunt For Boys Is Called Off

WHITEFISH POINT, Mich. (AP) — U.S. Coast Guard officials at Whitefish Point say they have given up a search for two teenage boys missing since Friday on Lake Superior. Authorities said the search for LeVelle Wright, 13, of Saginaw, and Richard Gragg, 14, of Midland, was terminated Saturday night, with police presuming the boys drowned.

Tom Tiede Puerto Rico: Is It Near Africa?

NEW YORK — The Puerto Rican on the street corner, gathering a crowd, was advocating the independence of his country. To prove a point, suggesting Americans do not give damn one about the commonwealth, he asked an attentive Anglo to find Puerto Rico on a map. The listener blushed, searched the paper, and said with authority: "It's near Africa, I know that."

That Americans are ignorant of their Caribbean possession has long been a source of humiliation to Puerto Ricans, particularly nationalists. Now the ignorance is being used by some activists to hasten their separatist ends. The theory is that if Americans can be suddenly educated concerning the often harsh realities of island-mainland relationships they will join in the minority cry to let the territory go its own way.

Though Puerto Ricans pay no U.S. taxes, they receive some $3.5 billion annually in U.S. aid and benefits; the taxpayer in Poughkeepsie, in other words, supports 2.8 million island residents virtually as an outright charity.

Besides this, the U.S. provides other expensive assistance. Being U.S. citizens, Puerto Ricans may come and go on the mainland, and recent history indicates they mostly come: 1.4 million Puerto Ricans live in the United States, 90 per cent of them in New York state. Backhandedly, activists point out the mainland Puerto Ricans often refuse to learn English and almost as often go on the public dole; at best they get jobs "that are sorely needed by mainland Americans themselves."

It should be pointed out here that the relationship is not quite so unilateral as a quick look indicates. Puerto Ricans have been drafted for every U.S. war of this century, and some of their federal benefits, such as Social Security, are of the insurance kind involving deductions from their salaries. Also, certainly, Puerto Rico has provided a valuable location for U.S. industry and a hemispherically strategic depot for Defense Department facilities.

So it is that long-festering strains, and neglect by both sides has forced some islanders to conclude that independence is their only dignified future. Others, in fact the thumping majority of Puerto Ricans, have decided against independence but want less severe relationship changes. Jaime Benitez, among the latter group, and the island delegate to the U.S. Congress, says his people are "damned sick and tired" of being ignored to the point Americans can't even find them on the map. He wants more political autonomy, more equitable social benefits, and more trade flexibility. He says the U.S. should explore "new forms of relationships between the powerful and the weak," suggesting P.R. be instituted in a kind of "heterogeneous federalism."

But what of mainland Americans? What do they want? The question has never been adequately asked, thus never answered. For three-quarters of a century Puerto Rico has been merely a government and industrial proposition, out there somewhere "near Africa." Do we want Puerto Ricans as second-class U.S. citizens? Do we want the nation as a state? Or is island sovereignty in any case inevitable? The map shows that Puerto Rico is actually located somewhere between limbo and apathy. Our enlightenment should include discussions on the morality of leaving it there and the wisdom of helping it move.

Marianne Means Scientists See Changing Climate

WASHINGTON — The Democrats here joke these days that this country has "had nothing but bad weather ever since a Republican was elected to the White House."

The supposed relationship to Presidential incumbents is somewhat dubious, but there is no doubt that the weather lately has been acting strangely.

In the month of July alone, Yellowstone Park had an earthquake, North Dakota and New Jersey suffered record flooding, a long-dormant volcano in Washington State began steaming suspiciously, an earthquake shook at least a 90,000 square mile area of the northern Great Plains, a tornado and torrential rains hit New York, and the nation's capital was battered by hailstones when it was not suffering from sweltering heat and pollution.

The meteorologists have logical scientific explanations for each isolated weather phenomenon. The Office of Emergency Preparedness, which provides Federal assistance for areas stricken by natural disasters, does not record any particular climatic shift.

Yet most of July's weather unpleasantness was unusual for those areas.

Perhaps it was just an exceptionally nasty month, and things will be better through August.

But many scientists are now convinced that the world's climate is steadily and fundamentally changing. They claim to detect new patterns in the weather. Some believe a new Ice Age may be approaching. Other experts predict the most severe drought in the lush Farm Belt next summer, since the great Dust Bowl drought of the 1930s. They base this not on a long-range climate change but on studies of 20-year solar activity cycles, which are believed to have a relationship to weather patterns.

Just how much the weather changes can be attributed to human intervention in the forces of nature has long been a subject of lively debate. The use of air conditioning, for instance, has raised the average summer temperatures of densely populated areas. The widespread use of aerosol spray cans and the increased levels of carbon dioxide are suspected of adding to the amount of ultraviolet radiation reaching the earth's surface through the ozone layer above, to unknown weather consequences.

And five per cent of the country's territory was affected last year by Federal rain-making and other weather modification projects, such as fog clearing operations at airports and hail-suppressing efforts. The purpose is beneficial and the projects limited in scope, but no one is really certain what all the side-effects of such tinkering may be.

The National Academy of Sciences report earlier this year noted, "There seems little doubt that the present period of unusual warmth will eventually give way to a time of colder climate, but there is not consensus with regard to either the magnitude or rapidity of the transition."

The scientists are clearly troubled by the weather, but thus far the politicians seem to have comfortably adopted that old adage that says everybody talks about the weather but no one does anything about it.

Shorts Hold Up Payment Of Bill

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Sixty pairs of state Rep. Joseph Czerwinski's boxer shorts are holding up payment of a $199 dry cleaning bill, but apparently not much else. Czerwinski contends Assistant Pity From Laundry and Dry Cleaners raised the elastic in his boxer shorts. That, he says, is why he has not paid the $99 he owes the cleaners.

Berrien Falling Behind Blood Donation Quota

6,000 Pints Is Target For 1975-76

By STEVE SAGER
Staff Writer

Most people can give at least a pint of blood.

The population of those between the ages of 18 and 65 (eligible to give blood) for Berrien county is about 90,000.

Given those two facts it would seem at least 6,000 pints of blood could be donated in the county in a year.

For the last two years it hasn't.

The Berrien County Chapter American Red Cross blood program last year collected 4,781 pints of blood, according to Miss Barbara Jo Price, coordinator for the program.

Miss Price said that due to the low collection the county has been placed on probation for one year by the Lansing Regional blood center.

The county has been participating with the Lansing Regional blood center for the past two years. The quota of 6,000 pints is based on 4 1/2 per cent of the total population of Berrien county.

The first year with the program the county failed to meet its goal. Last year's 4,781 pints was even worse than the first year.

According to Miss Price advantages of the Red Cross blood program are:

- 1. Everyone in Berrien county is totally covered whether you have donated or not.
- 2. Your blood needs will be replaced anywhere in the U.S.

Blood Draw Schedule

The schedule for Red Cross blood draws for August and September in Berrien county is:

Aug. 14 — St. Mary's church, Niles, noon to 6 p.m.

Aug. 15 — St. Joseph Elks club, St. Joseph, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Aug. 28 — Mercy hospital, Benton Harbor, noon to 6 p.m.

Sept. 11 — St. John's Lutheran church, Baroda, 2 to 8 p.m.

Sept. 12 — St. John's United church of Christ, New Buffalo, noon to 6 p.m.

by contacting the Berrien County Red Cross.

—3. You are not charged for the blood, itself, only for processing, crossmatching, administration, which in the Lansing region costs $21 per pint.

—4. When you leave the region, your blood needs will be met for one year, if you've been a donor.

—5. "Total coverage" stipulates your immediate family, you, your spouse, children under 18, parents, parents-in-law, grandparents and grand-parents-in-law, wherever they live, if not covered under the Red Cross blood program where they live.

Miss Price said the probation stipulates that if Berrien county does not get 6,000 pints of blood this fiscal year, July 1, 1975-June 30, 1976, blood will be disbursed from Lansing on a "you give, you get" basis next year.

In other words, there will be blood in the hospitals, but when a patient uses it he must replace it or pay for it. If the patient or his family has donated to the blood program, the blood will be replaced by the Lansing Regional blood center with only the cost of the hospital participation fee ($21) to the patient.

The patient or his family who has not donated would either have to replace two pints of blood for each pint used or pay from $80 to $100 for each pint of blood.

Jack Stafford, volunteer chairman of the blood committee of the Berrien county chapter of the Red Cross, said there are 31 counties participating in the Lansing Regional Red Cross blood program. A total of 72 hospitals in the region receive their blood supply from the Lansing center including six Berrien county hospitals.

In an effort to keep the blood "flowing" into the Berrien Red Cross, Stafford appeared before the St. Joseph city commission and got a plan approved for the week of Aug. 11-15 which permits motorists who receive parking tickets to donate a pint of blood as an option to paying the fine.

Those ticketed during the week can go from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Friday, Aug. 15, to a bloodmobile at the St. Joseph Elks club and donate. Stafford requests that anyone who plans to use the option to contact the Red Cross ahead of time to set up an appointment to give blood on that Friday.

Stafford added, "That doesn't mean you have to have a parking ticket to give blood. We urge people to just come and donate, ticket or no ticket."

According to Stafford, this is the first time such a plan has been tried anywhere. The blood draw for Aug. 15 is sponsored by the St. Joseph Elks and is supported by the St. Joseph Business association.

Stafford said there are about 50 blood draws in Berrien county set up by the Red Cross during the year.

Miss Price said to get 200 pints of blood at least 250 people are needed because on the average at least 50 people are found to be temporary or permanent rejections.

Stafford said the whole process of getting blood from a donor takes about an hour with the actual drawing of blood taking about five minutes.

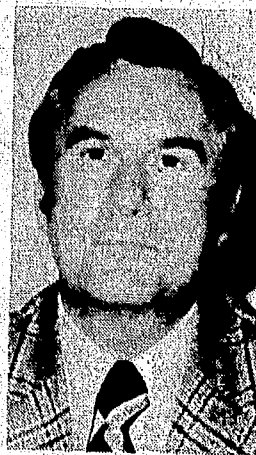

According to Red Cross statistics for last year, two of the three largest cities in the county were below average in contributing blood. Both Benton Harbor and St. Joseph were below normal while Niles contributed its share.

Miss Price said, "A healthy person can give blood once every two months." She added, "The hardest time to collect blood is during the summer months and December."

"By the end of a holiday, such as Labor Day, we can nearly be wiped out," she said.

Rollover Injures Hoosier

An Indiana man was listed in "serious" condition today at Mercy hospital, Benton Harbor, with injuries sustained in a one-car accident early Sunday.

Berrien sheriff's officers said a car driven by Ronald A. Klug, 23, East Gary, Ind., failed to negotiate a curve on River road near Dutch lane, Sodus township, hit a telephone pole and rolled over twice.

Klug sustained abrasions and fractured ribs and was ticketed for failure to have his vehicle under control, officers said.

Berrien sheriff's officers reported two other accidents over the weekend.

Deputies said Derwood Clay Biles, 32, Jonesboro, Ark., received apparently minor injuries early Sunday when his car went off Napier road, Bainbridge township, and hit a mailbox, utility pole and several trees.

Biles was treated and released from Mercy hospital, and cited for reckless driving, deputies said. The accident occurred about 2:30 a.m. on a curve along Napier just west of Park road.

Deputies said Leo Martorano, 44, of 712 Miller lane, St. Joseph township, was treated and released from Memorial hospital after a motorcycle accident about 12:45 p.m. Saturday on the eastbound I-94 exit ramp at Niles road, St. Joseph township.

Officers said the cycle operated by Martorano hit some loose gravel and flipped over. No tickets were issued.

Liquor Commission Schedules Hearings On 3 Area Requests

Two southwestern Michigan businesses and a Benton township social club are scheduled for hearings before the Michigan Liquor Control commission in Lansing tomorrow on applications for liquor licenses.

Scheduled for 10:30 a.m. is a hearing on a request for a new club license with a dance permit for the Purpose club, 1459 East Main street, Benton township. The commission said the Church of Christ, 1451 East Main street, objects to the application.

There will be two hearings at 9:30 a.m. The first involves a request by Pauline Turner, 3342 Main street, Covert, for a new takeout liquor license in conjunction with an existing takeout beer and wine license.

She is appealing a commission decision on March 24 which denied her request on the grounds that there is a takeout liquor outlet 2 1/2 blocks from the Turner business.

A hearing is also scheduled on a request by Boysen's Supermarket, Inc., 1597 South Main street, Martin, Allegan county, for a new takeout liquor license in conjunction with an existing takeout beer and wine license.

On June 2 the commission ordered that a hearing be scheduled to hear objections of the village.

Soften Heels When Bathing

Rough skin on heels is softened by warm water during bathing.

This is a good time to scrub gently with a soft brush or pumice stone to help remove dead skin and calloused spots. After the bath, massage a moisturizing cream or lotion into the area.

IRON ON BED

If you have a quilted bedspread with flounces, iron the flounces first. Then, put the spread on the bed and iron the top with the steam iron right on the bed.

Plan Fall Wedding

Her fiancé is a graduate of New Buffalo high school and is employed by The House of Color, LaPorte, Ind.

Repair Clothing

With summer on the way out, it's a good idea to think about switching clothes from drawers to boxes and closets or vice versa. But, first see what repairs can possibly be made for another season of wear.

Children's tags take the toughest beating — slacks, jackets, playsuits, coordinates, shoes. Check for faulty zippers, ripped seams and pockets or stretched elastics. Buttons abandoned at playgrounds or during ball games need replacing. A colorful patch can make even the oldest jeans usable for hard play or messy artwork.

After the mending and repairing is done, check for spots and stains. Although stains are more difficult to remove when not treated immediately, they may come out with special treatment. The Soap and Detergent association recommends referring to a chart for suggested stain removal procedures, if the stain known.

Lower Life Expectancy

Untreated mild hypertension (high blood pressure) can substantially lower life expectancy, according to Karl Engelman, MD.

The University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine professor recently cited statistics showing that a 35-year-old man might expect to live until age 74. But with a blood pressure reading of 150/100, he could only expect to live until age 60 if his hypertension is left untreated.

"Some patients and physicians would say a blood pressure of 150/100 is mild hypertension, but, in fact, data indicate there can be serious complications," he said. High blood pressure, controllable with drug therapy, has been linked to heart and kidney diseases and to stroke.

Dr. Engelman served as chairman of a medical symposium in Philadelphia, sponsored by the Department of Medicine and Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania, the Pennsylvania affiliate of the American Heart association, and a pharmaceutical company.

Volunteers Being Sought

Meals On Wheels

Meals on Wheels could use a tuneup before it heads into its first fall and winter season. Twelve people in the Twin Cities area currently are receiving a hot meal five days a week. They are people all in their 80's who either cannot obtain or prepare their own meals.

Mrs. R. James Gersonde of Stevensville, the director since July 1, said the program can easily be expanded. Right now she is looking for volunteers to deliver the meals to replace some drivers who have volunteered for the summer only.

An ideal situation Mrs. Gersonde said, is to have enough volunteers so that no team of two would have to work more than twice a month.

Meals on Wheels started last March. The office of the director is funded by the federal Comprehensive Educational Training Act (CETA) funds. Headquarters are located in St. Mark's Lutheran church, Napier avenue, Benton township. The original director, Firman Wood, of Indiana, served for about three months to get the program started.

The program utilizes St. Joseph, Memorial hospital kitchen. If more dinners are needed part of the meals will be prepared at Mercy hospital, Benton Harbor.

The cost of the five hot noon meals and five cold suppers is $15 weekly. If subscribers only want the hot noon meal the charge is $10 a week. Some recipients use food stamps to purchase hot meals, Mrs. Gersonde said.

Each Thursday the menu for

the following week is distributed. Patrons have a choice of two meat courses, two vegetables, bread, butter, salad, dessert and beverage. Meals are planned by regular hospital dietitians.

Mrs. Gersonde said one of the main functions of the volunteers delivering the meals is the daily check of the elderly residents. It takes about an hour to deliver the meals. At each stop the volunteers chat for a few minutes with recipients to be sure they are all right.

Volunteers pick up the meals sealed in aluminum foil and carried in heated and insulated containers at the hospital.

Meals are delivered between 11:30 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. Persons interested in delivering meals may contact Mrs. Gersonde at 926-1515.

Summer Treats Are Special

Desserts can be truly special when it's fresh sweet cherry time.

Pile the glistening fruit into snowy meringue shells, layer it in frosty parfaits, or fold diced sweet cherries into vanilla ice cream flavored with kirsch or brandy. For casual summer entertaining, serve these shiny beauties just as is or accompany with a creamy dip.

'Your Problems' By Ann Landers

A Wholesome Arrangement?

Dear Ann Landers: We'd like to know what you think of the latest wrinkle in housing arrangements. It's career women sharing apartments with single men. No sex, they say — word of honor, just a nice, wholesome platonic relationship that works out well, especially for the female. Why? Because, she says, a male roommate is less nosy, more responsible, neater and better organized than the single, working woman.

I asked a certain gal who is involved in such a living arrangement, "What about your reputation?" She replied, "You must be kidding. The new morality has changed all that nonsense. No one pays any attention anymore. Only the squares and dried-up Puritans frown on this great setup. And who cares what THEY think?" Your opinion is wanted. — Undy-sided

Dear Undy: A couple of swinging singles, just living together for convenience sake — no sex. Oh yeah? "Feed it to Sweeney," as they used to say back in the '40s.

Assuming they start out as "buddies" that number would play for three weeks. I say nix to the whole setup — but then I'm one of those square, dried-up

Puritans, so who cares what I think?

Too Smart

Dear Ann Landers: This is a reply to "Miss Know-It-All" who couldn't resist correcting grammatical mistakes, no matter who made them. Better cool it, honey, before you wind up with no friends. I learned the hard way.

I was always a whiz at English and spelling and I, too, had a compulsion to correct everybody. It nearly cost me my relationship with my daughter.

Sally was a smart gal but a lousy speller. When she landed a secretarial job in another city I used to correct the spelling errors in her letters and return them to her thinking I was being helpful. I didn't realize she resented it bitterly.

Finally Sally returned one of her "corrected" letters and told me if I didn't cut it out she wouldn't write to me any more.

That taught me to keep my hands off her letters and to bite my tongue when people made grammatical errors. What a pain in the neck I must have been!

If "Miss Know-It-All" can't

learn to control herself she should seek counseling and conquer her compulsion. — Ex-Authority

Dear Ex: It's hard to imagine a smart lady like you being so insensitive as to "correct" a grown daughter's letters, as if they were English exams, and return them to her.

I'm glad she had the courage to set you straight instead of seething in silence — or cutting you off altogether. Consider yourself lucky.

Where Was God?

Dear Ann Landers: A while back you printed a letter from a bitter, heartbroken woman who doubted the existence of God. She asked, "If there is a God, where was he when our only son was killed in Viet Nam?"

Her pastor, trying to console her, replied, "The same place He was when His only son was killed."

Perhaps this response will give consolation to others. It helped me get through a recent tragedy. — I See It Now

Dear Friend: Thanks for your letter. I hope others see it, too.

A no-nonsense approach to how to deal with life's most difficult and most rewarding arrangement. Ann Landers' booklet, "Marriage — What to Expect," will prepare you for better or for worse. Send your request to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 1400, Elgin, Ill. 60120, enclosing 50 cents in coin and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

When you talk about it in years to come, you will refer to it as "The Last Family Vacation."

It will start out like a score of other family vacations. One kid will yell because he has to sit on the hard hump in the middle of the seat. Another will sulk for 300 miles because he can't hear the radio. And another will hang his feet out of the window because his legs are cramped. (When did they grow so tall?)

There will still be the perennial recording of "When we go home, it is like old times. They are excited at the idea of going swimming with a friend, making it in time for a party, and bolting to their rooms to turn up the stereo until their ears shrivel.

As you unload the car, there is a silence. Without saying a word, everyone seems to know

(When did the excitement of a mountain give way to Mad magazine?)

At the beach, you begin to suspect things are changing when you and Daddy are the only two splashing around in the water. One child is in a phone booth making plans to split. Another has found a girl and is trying to palm himself off as an orphan. And the other is going through Daddy's trousers getting the car keys. (When did they stop talking to us?)

Going home, it is like old times. They are excited at the idea of going swimming with a friend, making it in time for a party, and bolting to their rooms to turn up the stereo until their ears shrivel.

As you unload the car, there is a silence. Without saying a word, everyone seems to know what the silence means. It is a moratorium to the last family vacation.

It will never be the same again. The wet diapers in the plastic bags under your feet, the soggy cookies, the strains of "This Old Man He Played One" burying your feet in the sand cries of "He's hitting" the cold caves, the burnt hot dogs, the camper that leaked, the giggles at bedtime, the laundromats and the wonderful, warm feeling that a woman feels when she sees her family tucked in at night.

It is the end of an era — the beginning of a new one.

You might allow yourself the luxury of a tear. Or you might say, to yourself half in anger, "God! Why did I spend every summer vacation yelling, 'Don't throw rocks in the water' and 'Don't sit on the seats!'"

BUCHANAN — Women's auxiliary of Gladys N. Lyon Post 3102, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will meet at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Aug. 12, in the Post Home.

Mrs. Henry Reed will be in charge of entertainment and refreshments.

By Oswald & James Jacoby, Oswald: "Test Your Bridge" by Victor Molo. Is a paperback concerned with fairly simple problems in play. He doesn't tell you how to bid the hands; which is just as well, because his British-type bidding is not easy to understand in this country. Thus, we will try to bid Victor's contracts in an American way.

Jim: "Victor has two questions on the play of the hand. He says, 'You go after trumps. How do you play them?' The answer is that you play the ace of trumps first to guard against the chance that all three trumps are held by West."

Oswald: "He then asks if you can be sure of your contract once you find there is no trump loser."

Jim: "The answer to that one is an unqualified affirmative. You simply drop the enemy's last trump, cash the high hearts and lead a diamond. The opponents take two diamonds and then must either lead a spade or give you a ruff and discard. If they lead a spade they finesse themselves."

Ask the Jacobys

This question is from Oregon. "I held six trumps to the ace-queen and dummy four to the jack 10. I led low from dummy. Should I have finessed after second hand played low?"

The answer is a decided, "Yes." Without going into all the complicated mathematics involved we can assure you that the finesse will succeed about three times for every time you drop the singleton king.

(Do you have a question for the Jacobys? Write "Ask the Jacobys" care of this newspaper. The most interesting questions will be used in this column and writers will receive copies of JACOBY MODERN.)

Last Family Vacation

Dr. Lester Coleman

For years, I have had devastating attacks of migraine. I've tried almost everything, but got at best only a bit of relief.

Recently, I met someone who says he was cured of migraine by avoiding alcohol and cheese. Could this kind of allergy cause migraine?

Mr. V.S. H.

Dear Mr. S.: There is no doubt about the relationship between some foods and migraine and vascular headaches.

Recently, this question was answered in the Journal of the American Medical Association by Dr. Donald J. Dalesio of the Scripps Clinic in La Jolla, Calif.

His suggestions struck me as valuable and I transmit them to you and other readers who suffer from unaccountable attacks of migraine headache.

Dr. Dalesio suggests that patients with migraine eat three well-balanced meals a day, and avoid an overabundance of carbohydrates at any single sitting.

If, by past experience, it is possible for you to establish a relationship between a particular food and your migraine you must, of course, eliminate it.

Dr. Dalesio itemizes the following items:

1) No alcohol, particularly red wines and champagnes.

2) No aged or strong cheese, particularly cheddar cheese.

3) Avoid chicken livers, pickled herring, canned figs, pods or broad beans and chocolate.

4) Use monosodium glutamate sparingly.

5) Avoid cured meats, such as hot dogs, bacon, ham and salami if there is the slightest suggestion that headaches are provoked by them.

Trial and error is a difficult, but a worthwhile approach to this and other allergic problems. ...

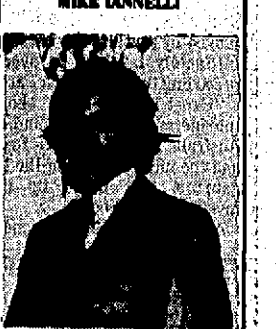

I just moved to an area where people, especially me, get bitten by catfish and stingrays. Believe me, they hurt. Do you know how to relieve this pain?

Mr. H.U. P.

Those who deal with this problem agree that the best way to relieve the pain is to quickly immerse the injured hand or foot in hot water. Apparently, this is effective because the heat destroys the toxic substance that is responsible for this unpleasant bite.

Decorating Trends

BY MIKE LANNELLI

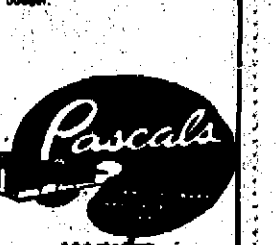

PICTURES AND WALL ORNAMENTS give a room the touches of color and visual interest that help it to "come alive." The freshest furniture will have an incomplete look if the walls are all bare. Wall decor is like the jewelry that turns a room's simplest dress into a striking party.

Besides providing a dramatic or useful piece for the eye to rest on, pictures can be used decoratively. You can use the colors in a painting to tie your room colors together for harmony. However, it's not a good idea to choose a painting for this purpose alone. You should select it because you like it. Keep your decor personally yours—not artificial.

You may want to group several smaller paintings for wall interest, or create a wall display for hobby items. Artifacts brought back from a special vacation, pieces of sculpture, antiques — all can give your room eye appeal. Today's trend is toward more ornamentation — so be bold!

From eye-catching wall decor to striking accessories and formal touches in quality furnishings for every room — our selection offers solutions to your decorating needs. Let us help you beautify your home in harmony with your good taste — and your budget.

University Anti-Bias Plan Is 'Near Self-Destruction'

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — In a stinging critique, a prestigious academic council charged Sunday that federal affirmative action programs to end discrimination in university and college faculties are confused and chaotic.

"Seldom has a good cause spawned such a badly developed series of federal mechanisms," said the report by the Carnegie Council on Policy Studies in Higher Education. "Few federal programs are now so near to self-destruction."

The report called for sweeping change in both government and campus programs to wipe out discrimination against female and minority professors on college faculties.

But, the council said, the schools themselves must bear the brunt of blame for the "tragedy" that special effort now is needed to open faculty opportunity for women, blacks and other minorities.

"Higher education long ago, in keeping with its own principles of finding merit wherever it could be found and rewarding it, should have been searching more actively for merit among women and minorities," the council said.

"It has failed its own principles and impoverished its own performance by the neglect of large pools of potential academic competence. It has looked for merit mostly within 40 per cent of the population (white, males) and largely neglected the other 60 per cent."

The Carnegie Council is headed by Clark Kerr, former president of the University of California. Members include Princeton President William G. Bowen, Michigan State University President Clifton B. Wharton Jr., and Ernest L. Boyer, chancellor of the State University of New York.

In its key recommendation, the council proposed a joint federal task force to revise, reconcile and coordinate regulations, guidelines and date requirements now imposed variously by the Labor Department, the Health, Education and Welfare Department, and the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission.

The Instant It Happened

THE CANDIDATE

There's a long, long trail to Washington. Shaking all those hands, talking all those words, eating all that chicken, and, oh, those aching feet.

In fact, Adlai Stevenson, governor of Illinois, had been dragging his feet all year. While Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee was running like a jackrabbit for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1952, Stevenson was saying no, no, a thousand times no.

In April, "I am temperamentally, physically and mentally unfit" for the presidency.

And what would be do if the convention drafted him? "Shoot myself, I guess."

He guessed wrong. In his acceptance speech, after winning the nomination by 617½ votes to Kefauver's 275½, Stevenson pledged: "I will fight to win with all my heart and soul. . . I ask of you all you have. I will give to you all I have."

And so he set off on the long journey that would cover more than 30,000 miles.

The 52-year-old diplomat-lawyer-newsman-politician was destined to be swamped by General Eisenhower in the 1952 election.

But now on Sept. 2, in Flint, Mich., Adlai is seated with Gov. G. Mennen Williams making last minute revisions for a Labor day speech. He is for repeal of labor's bete noire, the Taft-Hartley Act, "a recap job with reclaimed Republican rubber."

"Okay, Gov., but speaking about recap jobs."

Bill Gallagher of the Flint Journal was a bit miffed. He had to work Labor day. It was misty, "the kind of day you want to be some place else, and I was working for a Republican paper. . . But he spotted the shoe and thought the shot had prospects. It did and when he was awarded the Pulitzer Prize for the picture, Stevenson wired, "Glad to hear you won with a hole in one." Pulitzer Prize Winner, 1953.

New Chief Of State PSC Sees Job As 'Adversary'

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The newly appointed head of the state's Public Service Commission promises he won't cozy up to the Michigan utilities which the commission regulates.

Daniel Demlow, currently the state's insurance commissioner, was appointed last week to chair the three-member PSC that oversees rates charged by gas, electric, phone and other utility companies.

The 30-year-old Demlow said his job will be that of an adversary role with industry. He said the companies will have to prove to him that they need rate hikes.

As he put it:

"One of my goals will be to make certain the public doesn't pay any more for utilities than absolutely necessary."

But he added:

"We also have to guarantee that the energy will be there when we need it."

Many in Lansing take Demlow at his word. They say he already has built a reputation as a consumer advocate during his two-year reign as insurance commissioner as a result of recent rate battles with Blue Cross and Blue Shield.

He publicly criticized the medical insurers for failing to eliminate "wasteful" and unnecessary expense which in turn results in higher rates to Blue Cross subscribers.

Demlow also said Blue Cross advertising programs were wasteful in that they were aimed primarily at image building.

Blue Cross, in a strong reaction to the criticism, sued Demlow for allegedly abusing his authority.

Demlow will join the PSC at a time when the panel is under attack for cozying up to the utilities and is targeted for an unprecedented probe by the legislature.

Demlow replaces fellow Republican William Rosenberg, who has been nominated for a post with the federal energy administration in Washington. The PSC now has two Republicans and one Democrat.

Governor William Milliken's appointment of Demlow to the $30,000 post still must be confirmed by the Senate.

Crackdown Planned On Trucks, Buses

LANSING, Mich. (AP) —

Truck and bus drivers beware. The state Public Service Commission is equipping its patrol cars with radar equipment to start a crackdown on speeding trucks and buses.

For several years, truckers have been broadcasting on popular two-way radios to warn each other of "Smokey" — slang for the state police.

Now the PSC hopes to even the odds and make the roads a little safer.

The commission, which is responsible for regulating intrastate commercial traffic as well as regulating utility rates, has placed 22 radar units on Michigan highways.

The equipment has been acquired in cooperation with the state police, who say statistics show trucks are more likely to be involved in fatal accidents than cars.

Police say in 1973, trucks were involved in 25 per cent of the state's traffic fatalities, although they account for only 14 per cent of total vehicle registrations.

The 1973 statistics are the latest available and were compiled before the 55 m.p.h. speed limit went into effect.

The PSC plans to patrol freeways as well as two-lane highways in the state.

Motorists driving cars don't have to worry about the new crackdown. The PSC only has authority to ticket commercial vehicles, and the commission says it has no plans to notify police of speeding cars.

Stockpile Of New Cars Continues To Decrease

DETROIT (AP) — The auto industry's supply of unsold models continues to decline as sales rise.

The trade weekly Automotive News reports that the domestic industry's stockpile of unsold cars fell to 1,453,000 as of Aug. 1. That is 150,000 fewer cars than the industry had on hand July 1.

The surplus translates into a 59-day supply, based on the July selling rate. The industry had a 65-day supply July 1.

Industry analysts say a 60-to-65-day supply is near optimal for the companies.

The falling stockpile is good news for auto workers fearing new layoffs. The companies began cutbacks last winter when supplies ballooned to nearly a 100-day level.

About 104,000 of the industry's 703,000 blue collar workers remain on indefinite layoff, well down from the more than 210,000 idled for long-term periods last winter.

Little Trial Goes Into Fifth Week

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — As the Joan Little murder trial moved into its fifth week today, defense attorneys were expected to continue efforts to back their claim that Miss Little was a victim, not a killer.

Defense attorneys met over the weekend to decide whether Miss Little should take the stand to tell her story. There will be no warning before she takes the stand, defense attorney Marvin Miller said. He added, "You'll know when it happens."

Miss Little, a 21-year-old black, is charged with second degree murder in the icepick stabbing death of white Beaufort County jailer Clarence Allgood, 62. His partially nude body was found in her jail cell Aug. 27, 1974.

The state said Allgood's death was part of an escape plot on Miss Little's part. The defense contends that Miss Little defended herself from a sexual attack and fled the jail because she feared reprisals.

Miss Little was charged with first degree murder when the trial opened, but last week that charge was dropped to second degree by presiding Superior Court Judge Hamilton Hobgood after the prosecution had presented its case. Under state law, first degree murder carries the mandatory penalty of death in the gas chamber while second degree has a maximum sentence of life imprisonment.

In testimony last week, three black women who had served time in the rural jail testified that Allgood had made advances to them or had witnessed him making suggestive remarks to Miss Little. One of the women, Annie Marie Gardner, said Allgood "would always try to feel my breasts."

Ford To Press For Homes For All Refugees By Fall

By HOWARD BENEDICT

Associated Press Writer
VAIL, Colo. (AP) — Dressed in blue pajamas, the middle-aged Vietnamese man approached President Ford and said in hesitant English:

"All of people of Ft. Chaffee thank you very much for your help, and we pray for you, your family and your people."

The incident took place Sunday in a hospital ward as the President ended an hour-long visit to the Vietnamese refugee relocation center at Ft. Chaffee, Ark.

The President said he would do everything possible to see that new homes are found by late this fall for this man and 55,000 other Indochina refugees still in four U.S. camps.

Later, Ford and Mrs. Ford flew to Vail, Colo., to begin a two-week working vacation in the mountain resort.

Meeting with aides, social events, golf, swimming and tennis are on his agenda for the next several days before he takes off next Monday for a mid-vacation tour in Iowa, Minnesota and Illinois.

Last May, Ford pressed for funds to resettle Indochina refugees in this country, and Congress responded by appropriating $405 million.

Thousands of refugees still at Chaffee showed their appreciation by giving the President a rousing welcome. They lined the three-mile route from the base gate and waved and cheered as the presidential motorcade went by.

Most looked very westernized, wearing skirts and blue jeans, but a few of the elders wore the traditional dress of the Vietnamese.

One old woman in black pajamas hid behind a tree, but peeked out when the motorcade passed.

Donald McDonald, a senior civil coordinator at the base, told the President that Ft. Chaffee quarters 20,941 refugees. Another 23,000 have been relocated elsewhere in homes across the country.

McDonald reported a total of 120,796 refugees have come to the four relocation centers but 65,151 have been resettled.

Ford said, "We will make every possible effort to complete the relocation program on schedule by late this fall."

He said that, after a rough start, "Things are running smoothly now and are going to run more smoothly in the future."

In sweltering heat, with the temperature near 100, Ford took off his coat as he visited a barracks, a day-care center and the hospital at Ft. Chaffee.

GM's Test Car Goes A'Dieting

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors' latest effort in its search for better auto fuel economy is the Pontiac Phoenix.

It looks like a compact Pontiac Ventura on the outside, but there's a major difference. The Phoenix was put on a crash diet six months ago and now is 700 pounds lighter than the regular compact version. The Phoenix tips the scales at about the weight of the subcompact Astre.

The experimental car is the result of a corporate design study making use of lighter weight materials — mainly plastics — to take as much weight as possible out of a compact car and still meet current safety and damageability standards. The auto companies have found that weight reduction leads to the most significant gains in fuel economy. As a result they are bringing out new small cars and plan to downsize existing large models over the next few years.

Josh Madden, materials development engineer for Pontiac, says the Phoenix is powered by a four-cylinder engine, instead of the Ventura's standard six-cylinder engine. He says the new car also has a lighter transmission, lighter gauge steel frame and associated chassis changes. Altogether, he says, those changes have lopped 300 pounds off the car.

In addition, Madden says, plastic component design has reduced weight by another 400 pounds. Madden says the changes have not had much effect on the original compact's ride and handling characteristics.

The Phoenix project was launched at the start of this year as a cooperative project involving Pontiac, GM's manufacturing development staff, several other GM staffs and some outside suppliers. Plastics are used in the Phoenix's wheels, transmission, fender and radiator supports, hoods, liner panel, deck lid, inner panel, door impact beams and bumper beams.

Other plastic components include bumper energy absorbers, front fenders, fuel tank, cowl vent panel and fixed rear windows. The result is a compact weighing about 2,000 pounds with typical options. A comparably equipped Ventura weighs 3,600 pounds. An Astre with similar equipment weighs about 2,700 pounds.

Andrews Awards Degrees To 219

BERRIEN SPRINGS — Andrews university graduated 219 students during summer commencement exercises yesterday in Pioneer Memorial church on the AU campus.

HONORARY DEGREE: Mrs. Eurides Brito da Silva, a Brazilian education official, was presented honorary doctor of laws degree yesterday at Andrews university, Berrien Springs. Mrs. da Silva was speaker at summer commencement at university.

Commission Rules BPW Needs Land

A three-man board of condemnation commissioners ruled Friday that it is necessary for the Berrien county board of public works (BPW) to acquire a 25-acre site in New Buffalo township for a proposed sewage treatment plant.

The property bordering the Gallen river is owned by Calvin and Dortha Warner of Chicago, who previously rejected a BPW offer of $14,000 for the land but did not set a value of their own. The commissioners, appointed by Berrien Circuit Court Judge William S. White, now must set a value on the land. No date has been announced for that decision.

The commissioners are Atty. John P. Collins of Stevensville and two real estate brokers — Herbert P. Reimers of St. Joseph and Donald M. Bowers of Benton Harbor.

South Haven Adult Classes Open Sept. 8

SOUTH HAVEN — Information is available from the South Haven community education office for adults interested in earning a high school diploma. Community Education Director Robert Gabel announced the first semester of the adult education program will begin Sept. 8.

He noted that the program allows adults to receive credit toward a regular high school diploma through means other than attending classes, including work experience, military service, trade and business schools, homemaking experience, G.E.D. test results and apprentice training.

He also reminded veterans they would be eligible to receive monthly benefits through the GI bill for working toward a high school diploma.

An adult base education class is also planned for persons with less than an eighth grade education.

It was the second of two graduations held each year at AU. The first was in June, when 341 students were graduated.

Receiving an honorary doctor of laws degree was Mrs. Eurides Brito da Silva, who has been appointed by the president of Brazil to serve on that nation's top educational body, the federal board of education.

Education, she said, should be open to all. One of the main problems she has faced in Brazil is to provide an education for the 20 per cent of Brazil's school-age children unable to attend school, she said.

Education must also be democratic, Mrs. da Silva said. "Education must be a proposition and not an imposition made by the educator to the student."

One cannot think of human liberty and solidarity without making access to education a reality.

Mrs. da Silva was named in 1969 director of the Brazilian office of secondary education in the National department of education and culture.

She became director of the office of elementary education in 1970, and before she assumed her present position in 1974, she had initiated an entire reordering of Brazil's elementary education.

She was cited here for helping improve the quality of education for millions in Brazil.

Dr. Joseph Smoot, vice-president for academic affairs, officiated at the ceremonies in the absence of University President Richard Hammill.

After conferring the degrees, Dr. Smoot said, "Christian education is different. For one thing, it costs you more. And beyond finances, it costs you more as a person as well. It costs Christian consecration."

As a tribute to AU's international student body, some 80 flags lined the mall in front of the church.

Among the 219 who were graduated, 42 were from the seminary, 107 from the school of graduate studies, and 70 from the college of arts and sciences and the college of technology.

Oil Land Auction Due

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The Michigan Department of Natural Resources will auction oil and gas lease rights on 171,081 acres of state-owned land a week from today. Only a fraction of the 900,000 acres leased in the past three years has been developed. Most of the land to be auctioned was put on the block by oil companies. Shell Oil proposed 30,500 acres; American Natural Gas asked the state to put up 28,000 acres; and other firms proposed smaller chunks of land. DNR keeps secret the specific land each firm proposed until after the lease auction is complete. "The oil companies lease an awful lot of land they don't have any plans to develop," said Jane Bower, DNR oil and gas leasing supervisor. "They lease up a block so if preliminary exploration data indicates there is a possibility production might be profitable, they have the lease sewn up," Ms. Bower said.

Farm Waste Tanks Seen As Potential Death Traps

By JIM KESSEY
Associated Press Writer
EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Michigan farmers face potential death traps when working around liquid manure tanks, milk-house drainage pits or other organic waste storage units, says a Michigan State University safety engineer.

"It's generally not realized that gases generated by organic wastes are harmful to humans and animals," Richard G. Pfister said. "Several deaths in Michigan have been attributed to gases from these tanks."

Pfister explained that liquid animal manure generates up to 27 gaseous compounds during bacterial decomposition. The gases are trapped in small bubbles and released when the liquid is agitated or pumped. "Some of these gases, such as methane, carbon dioxide, ammonia and hydrogen sulfide, are extremely hazardous," Pfister said.

Those particular four gases may create an atmosphere that is highly explosive, poisonous, without oxygen or a combination of all three conditions, Pfister said. Methane is colorless, odorless, lighter than air and burns readily. It is explosive in concentrations as low as five per cent.

Hydrogen sulfide is the gas with a rotten-egg smell. It tends to paralyze the diaphragm and victims usually collapse at once. Rescuers are often overcome while trying to help.

"It's extremely poisonous," Pfister warns. "In concentrations of more than one-tenth of one per cent, hydrogen sulfide may cause serious disability or death. It's heavier than air and almost always present in any pit containing decomposing material."

Carbon dioxide is undetectable, colorless and heavier than air. Ammonia is colorless, lighter than air and has a pungent odor. Both can suffocate a person.

"Any closed space can harbor dangerous gases," Pfister cautions. "Underground tanks or pits, which cannot be ventilated easily, are potentially most dangerous. Silo pits, septic tanks or well pits can harbor deadly hydrogen sulfide."

U.S. Carmakers Plunge Into Compacts

By OWEN ULLMANN
Associated Press Writer
DETROIT (AP) — Thirty-seven miles per gallon in the EPA highway test. An import? asks a radio commercial to the goon-pah-pah strains of a German brass band. "No. A Chevy!" the radio voice answers.

Foreign cars are suddenly the hottest action in a cold auto market and American manufacturers are copying the imports by introducing luxury compacts and developing minicars.

As a result of hefty increases in automobile and gasoline prices and consumer fears of more fuel shortages, the predominantly small imports are grabbing a record share of the domestic market.

Through the first half of 1975, they accounted for one of every five new U.S. car sales. In California, they took two out of five sales, and in New England they held a quarter of the market.

Listen to the broadcast commercials; read the newspaper ads. It's no longer Chevy versus Ford. Now its Chevy versus Toyota and Ford versus Volkswagen.

Imports suffered virtual neglect for years. In 1955, foreign car companies sold 57,000 cars here — less than 1 per cent of total sales for the year. Four years later, import sales had increased to 600,000 and 10 per cent of the market. By 1970, sales were 1.2 million and imports claimed a 15 per cent market share.

Imports peaked at 1.7 million in 1973, and have accounted for at least 15 per cent of total U.S. car sales since 1970.

The Treasury Department announced Friday that it had launched an investigation into whether foreign cars were being sold in the United States at less than fair value. The probe involves $7.5 billion a year worth of imports from eight nations and constitutes the largest so-called dumping investigation ever by the U.S. government, a department official said.

The auto-exporting countries targeted in the investigation are: West Germany, the United Kingdom, France, Belgium, Italy, Sweden, Japan and Canada.

FAMOUS LAST WORDS: "That 'Beware of Dog' sign is just put there to scare off people. They probably don't even have a dog!" Younger you're not getting if you remember these oldtime cigar brands: Zouave, Nabob, Barking Dog, Violets (for women) and an unbranded cinnamon cigar with filter tip. Bar-Scooping at the Ritz Carlton, Boston: The super perfect Manhattan is one and a half ounces of bourbon, a half ounce dry vermouth and a dash of Angostura bitters... Tip from Terry (Century West Club) Robinson: To soothe perspiring and painful feet, soak a washcloth in chilled witch hazel and fold it around toes, insteps and ankles for a few seconds — but don't rub. Nostalgic item: On microfilm in the NYC Library is a complete set of Sears Roebuck catalogues dating from 1893 to 1974.

DETROIT (March 16, 1947) — Land in Lansing township has been designated as the site of the new State Capitol. A bill signed by Gov. William Greeley ended months of wrangling over the new location. Sources close to the situation contend that Lansing was suggested as a joke. This was firmly denied by Enos Goodrich of Genesee county, one of the supporters of the Lansing decision. "We saw that the House was deadlocked in a choice of sites for the State Capitol. Several towns had been mentioned. Among these were Detroit, Lyons, Charlotte, Eaton Rapids, Jackson, Marshall, and many others... we hoped to end the deadlock."

The Governor's signature makes the new Capitol, to be called "Michigan" or "The City of Michigan" a reality.

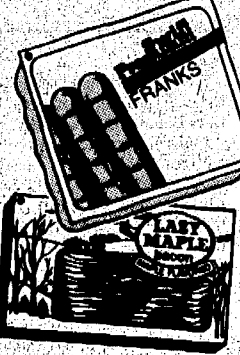

James Seymour of Genesee county offered the property for the Capitol grounds free to the State. "It is said that this was instrumental in Lansing township being selected."

Goodrich agreed: "We furnished maps to all of the legislators and I think this helped convince the members that this was a viable site," he said.

Reports reaching Detroit indicate that the area in Lansing township is nothing but trees, a few cowboys at a bend in the Grand river

Distillery Heir Feared Kidnaped

NEW YORK (AP) — The Federal Bureau of Investigation said today it is investigating the reported kidnapping of the 21-year-old son of a prominent New York businessman.

The youth, Samuel Bronfman II, is the son of Edgar M. Bronfman Sr., president of the Distillers Corp., Seagrams Ltd.

He reportedly was seized somewhere in affluent Westchester County, just north of New York City.

An FBI spokesman said Sunday the youth "allegedly was driving to a party in his private vehicle the night of Aug. 8."

"At 2 a.m. on the 9th, the son called his father and said he had been kidnapped by three unknown males and said he or they would be in contact with his father later," the spokesman said.

No ransom demand has been received, he said.

"The kidnapping has been reported to us and is under investigation by us," he said. "We're investigating, one, whether a kidnapping actually has occurred and, two, whether there's a federal violation involved."

Where the alleged kidnapping took place could not immediately be determined.

The elder Bronfman was not available for comment, but Samuel's brother, Edgar M. Bronfman Jr., said he had "no knowledge of any kidnapping."

Local New York police also said they had no knowledge of a kidnapping.

Samuel Bronfman was named for his grandfather who formed Distillers Corp., which acquired Joseph E. Seagram & Son, a Canadian whiskey producer. Young Bronfman graduated from Williams College, Williamstown, Mass., this summer.

Edgar Bronfman Sr. of exclusive Yorktown Heights, N.Y., is a former chairman of the board of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, and has been a trustee of the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts, the National Urban League, Inc., and Mount Sinai Hospital and School of Medicine. Samuel Bronfman was graduated from Deerfield Academy in Deerfield, Mass., in 1971. He was awarded a varsity letter in tennis and also played junior varsity basketball.

A tall, thin man, young Bronfman was on the freshman basketball squad at Williams College.

Edgar Bronfman's personal fortune has been estimated at $400 million, but the wealth of the entire Bronfman family has been net at $1 billion.

Distillers Corp.-Seagrams Ltd., based in Montreal, has annual sales of more than $1.5 billion.

Last year, the elder Bronfman won annulment of his unconsummated marriage to Lady Carolyn Townsend, and received more than half of the $1 million he bestowed on her in a prenuptial agreement.

He has served as a director of the Bank of New York, Rheingold Corp., and the Police Athletic League, Inc., and was active in the Federation of Jewish Philanthropies.

Mrs. Ford revealed that her behind-the-scenes outspokenness, her disagreement with the President on certain political matters, resulted in the appointment of a woman, Carla Hills, as secretary of Housing and Urban Development.

"Yes, I won that one," she said. "And I'm working on another. If I can get a woman on the Supreme Court bench, then I think I'll really be — have accomplished a great deal."

Mrs. Ford's press secretary, Sheila Weidenfeld said Michael Rudi, a theological student, told his mother he was not sure he agreed with her views on premarital sex. "I guess I'm more old-fashioned," he said.

White House Press Secretary Ron Nessen said the President and Mrs. Ford watched the interview in Vall, Colo., where they are on a 15-day working vacation.

The President's "only reaction was that he has always taken the position that Mrs. Ford should speak her mind," Nessen said.

Susan Ford was not immediately available for comment, but one of her close friends said Susan was delighted about the interview.

CRASH INJURES FIVE: Ambulance attendants remove Joseph Agnew, 28, Chicago, from scene of one-car crash that injured five persons about 3:25 a.m. today. State police from South Haven said car driven by Donald Agnew, 37, Chicago, struck concrete overpass on I-196 near 71st street, Casco township, after rear tire blew out. Joseph Agnew was listed in fair condition today at South Haven Community hospital. Driver and three other passengers were released after treatment. (Tom Reuter photo)

Tickets may be purchased at door. Cost is $2.50 for adults and $1.50 for those under 12. In scene from play are (left to right) Cery Reynolds, 20, Barbara Epps, 17, David Lloyd, 21, and Frieda Joseph, 17. Play is sponsored by Miss Helen McKenzie and Charles Henderson, both teachers in Benton Harbor area schools, and directed by Miss Trudy Walker. "Amen Corner" was written by James Baldwin. It is first production by recently formed group. (Staff photo) don't know. I just supposed you probably had. But it's not habit, it's nothing that we've had to have."

Responding to Safer's question about whether she would have tried marijuana when she was growing up, Mrs. Ford said, "Oh, I'm sure I probably would when I was growing up at that age. I probably would have been interested to see what the effect. I never would have gone into it as a habit or anything like that. It's the type of thing that the young people have to experience, like your first beer or your first cigarette, something like that."

Conceding that she was outspoken on many controversial issues, Mrs. Ford credited this with saving many women's lives. "The fact that I had the cancer operation, and the publicity of that, saved a lot of people's lives."

Mrs. Ford revealed that her behind-the-scenes outspokenness, her disagreement with the President on certain political matters, resulted in the appointment of a woman, Carla Hills, as secretary of Housing and Urban Development.

"Yes, I won that one," she said. "And I'm working on another. If I can get a woman on the Supreme Court bench, then I think I'll really be — have accomplished a great deal."

tions to the board.

He noted that if the proposal is approved, the first year's income almost certainly would be used to help pay the $105,575 bill for replacement of the roof at Upton Junior high school — a matter for which the schools have filed a $200,000 suit against the original contractor and two suppliers.

He estimated the district's investment at more than $20 million in buildings that range in age from the original part of Milton Junior high (the former high school) in 1911 to the present high school addition and Upton Junior high in 1968.

Proposition III asks a half-mill to restore the busing of some 400 students living less than 1 1/4 miles from school who otherwise would have to walk along heavily-traveled roads.

The busing of these students, which is not reimbursed by the state, has been done by St. Joseph schools for years but was eliminated for 1975-76 following defeat of a 1.91-mill operating tax proposal in March.

Dumke said the new half-mill proposal was placed on the ballot in response to numerous requests from citizens that they be permitted to vote only on restoring busing and some extra-curricular activities that so far have been cut, including about $5,000 in junior high athletics and a lesser amount in sponsorship of clubs and sports.

The proposed tax — 50 a year on a $10,000 equalized valuation home — would produce an estimated $70,000 income, according to Percy, who said the cost of bus transportation alone would run about $80,000.

He said the students most affected by the busing would be in the Brown school and North Lincoln school areas and those in the E.P. Clarke area who would have to walk along Glenford road.

Percy said that based on present estimates of income and state aid, passage of Proposition III would enable the schools to immediately reinstate the sports that have been cut — junior varsity baseball, seventh grade football and boys' track, junior high tennis and girls' track and the positions of two junior high athletic coordinators and one assistant wrestling coach — as well as other non-athletic activities the administration feels worthwhile.

Andrews Opens New Berrien Springs Plaza

BERRIEN SPRINGS — University Plaza, located on US-31 across from the Berrien county youth fairgrounds, opened for business today.

The plaza, owned by Andrews university, includes a grocery market, a Ben Franklin variety store, a card and gift shop, a bakery and a discount appliance store. All are open for business but the bakery, due to begin operating next month, and the discount room, to open in October. The plaza will be open Sunday through Friday each week.

The grand opening is set for early September, according to Dave Dent, manager of the market and variety store. Total floor area of the entire building, including warehouse, is 48,000 square feet. A 100-car parking lot covers an additional two acres.

The AU plant services construction crew, directed by Dick Ekkens, built the plaza at a cost in excess of $1 million, according to Kendall Hill, university controller. Part of the plaza, the Apple Valley market, is a continuation of the University market, which has operated in cramped quarters near the education building on campus since 1951. Before that the market was located, from 1919, in the basement of North hall, a campus building now torn down.

The new facility was built to remove public commercial activity from the campus and to better serve customers in the community,

Dent said. The university bookstore, now in the basement of the vacated market, will occupy the entire building in time for fall quarter registration. The new market is over four times larger than the old. It has seven checkstands, aisles 6½ feet wide, carpeted floors, a customer service center, and a natural foods section carrying 150 varieties of nuts, grains, flours, and other foods.

The market will also carry a variety of vegetable meat analogues in place of a meat section. Animal products will be limited to milk, cheese, and eggs. With the move, the market hired 10 new employees, including part-time students, making a total of 40 full and part-time employees at the new market.

The variety store, named Apple Valley Family center, carries such items as paints, clothing, tennis shoes, household decorations, stationery, toys, and clothing material and patterns. All sections of the plaza are operated by the university except the card shop, called the Greeting Gallery, which the university is leasing to Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Perock, who owned Shirl's Card and Gift Shop in downtown Berrien Springs.

The Greeting Gallery carries Hallmark products, gift items and wedding invitations and accessories.

THIRD RACE FATALITY IN 13 MONTHS Motorcyclist Killed At Cass Fair

By ALAN AREND

Staff Writer

CASSOPOLIS — Dennis Hardesty, 20, of Lima, Ohio, was killed Saturday night in a motorcycle race at the Cass county fairgrounds here when his cycle went out of control on a turn and slammed into a tree.

Hardesty was the third motorcycle racer to be killed during a race in southwestern Michigan in the past 13 months. Garry G. Franz of Eau Claire, was killed in a race at Millburg Speedway in Berrien county, July 8, 1974, and Robert L. Graham, of Fennville, was killed in a race at Third World race track, Howard township, Cass county, Oct. 26, 1974.

Cass sheriff's deputies said Hardesty lost control of his motorcycle as he was going into the turn near the end of the race.

The motorcycle left the fairground's one-mile oval track and struck a tree, police said. Hardesty was rushed to Lee Memorial hospital, Dowagiac, where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

The 7:30 p.m. accident was not considered a traffic fatality since it occurred on private property, according to deputies. No other motorcycles in the race were involved in the accident, police said.

The race held in conjunction with the Cass county fair, was sponsored by the Iron Horsemen club of Goshen, Ind., according to Merle Harris of Edwardsburg, fair president.

The crash was investigated by deputies and the Cassopolis village police.

Mr. Hardesty was born Nov. 17, 1954, in Lima, Ohio, the son of Donald and Hazel Hardesty. He worked as a laborer in the construction industry.

Closest Finish In History Of Games

Berrien Claims CanAmer Trophy

By JACK WALKDEN
Staff Sports Writer

BRANTFORD, Ont. — It was close. Boy was it close. The 1975 CanAmer Olympian competition was so close, in fact, that the final point totals had to be refigured here Saturday night.

But when the points had finally been figured and refigured Sunday morning, Berrien county had captured the CanAmer Trophy for the eighth time in the eight year history of the competition.

Berrien county finished with 2942.87 points to claim a narrow win over Brant county, which wound up with 2902.50. It marked the closest finish in history.

The winners continued their domination of boys basketball, track and field and swimming to make the difference. Berrien also surprisingly won tennis and took wrestling via forfeit when Brant couldn't field a team.

Brant took back girls' softball honors after a year's absence. The hosts had never lost a girls' softball game until last year when Berrien swept all three games. Brant took two of the three contests this time around. Brant won the junior division game, 21-4, and the senior contest, 8-1. Berrien took the intermediate tilt, 21-9.

The junior game resulted in a dispute involving two Brant county players who did not meet the age requirements for that division. A penalty was given to Brant which virtually made up the 40 point difference in the meet.

Brantford also won chess, soccer, and golf after having already taken hockey last winter.

A complete eight-game sweep was registered by Berrien in the boys basketball competition. The Bantam division for boys ages 13-14 was easily the most impressive, boasting a pair of easy wins by scores of 58-18 and incredibly, 75-4. Berrien held a 26-2 lead after the first quarter of the second game and then blanked Brant for the next two periods to roll to a 67-2 edge.

A balanced scoring paced Berrien to the first game victory as none of the winners scored in double figures. Keene Taylor paced Berrien with nine points and Steve Johnson, Steve Nash and Ron Williams each tallied eight.

Mike Gillespie took command in the second contest by scoring 18. Dave Goodwin added 13 and Williams had 10.

Robert Gillespie was the pace setter for the Berrien rookie division team. He scored eight points in the first game as Berrien won, 35-29. Gillespie then pumped in 17 during a 46-36 second win.

Berrien's junior division squad posted 48-32 and 77-43 wins, while the senior division team claimed a 60-48 triumph before capturing a narrow 65-44 double overtime contest.

Steve McNutt paced the juniors, scoring 14 in the first game and 12 in the second. Tom Meredith had 17 in the second game, while Gerald Busby added 12 and Earl Sanders and Mike Tinberg scored 10 apiece.

Buchanan's Ken Garrett had an embarrassing moment in the second senior game. With less than two minutes to play, Garrett pulled down a rebound of a missed free throw and went back up to put in a layup. The only problem was that it was the wrong basket.

Keith Seahorn's 16 points and Napoleon Redmond's 12 still led the seniors through the double overtime thriller. Mike Howard, of Benton Harbor, scored 14 points in the first game win.

Berrien's biggest margin of victory came in track and field, where the winners finished with an 871.5-575.5 edge.

Maurice Burton claimed two individual victories and also ran the anchor leg of the winning Berrien 400-meter relay team in the boys 17-18 division. Burton captured the 100-meter and 200-meter dashes in speedy times of 11.2 and 22.3 seconds, respectively.

Kim Edwards won three individual events on the girls side of the ledger. Edwards claimed first place honors in 800-meter run (2:58.7), 1500-meter run (6:18.6) and then set one of 16 meet records with a 4' 2" leap in the high jump in the girls 9-11 class.

Nine other Berrien runners captured a pair of individual events. Chris Jones won the 100-meter and 200-meter runs in the girls 14-15 division with Nancy Murphy a winner in the girls 9-11. In the same two events, Sue Atcher captured the 100-meter run in the 12-13 girls division and then set a long jump mark of 4 meters, 73 centimeters.

Mark Adkins raced away with the boys 12-13 100-meter dash title and also captured the high jump. Maverick Burton took the 100-meter and 200-meter boys 14-15 titles, while Greg Kelley won the 200-meter and 400-meter in the boys 12-13 class, and Tony Howard captured the high jump and 200-meter in the boys 9-11 division. Leonard Fowler posted a record long jump of 5 meters, 85 centimeters and also took the triple jump in boys 14-15.

Andrea Cross repeated as a triple winner in swimming's 11-12 girls class for Berrien. Cross took the individual medley (2:44.23), the 50-meter butterfly (32.01) and the 50-meter freestyle (25.03) to help Berrien to a 907-966 swimming edge.

Shawn Bambrick and Diane Grandy each collected two firsts and one second. Bambrick captured the 100-meter backstroke and the 100-meter butterfly in the girls 13-14 class and was second in the 100-meter freestyle. Grandy claimed firsts in the 50-meter butterfly and breaststroke and took second in the individual medley.

Berrien surprised Brant by posting 13 victories in the 18 tennis matches. Ann Barlow and Kathy McKee each won their matches by 6-1, 6-1 scores in the most decisive matches of the day.

Brant outscored Berrien 17-4 in the three soccer matches. Gary Unsinger tallied two goals for Berrien in a 3-2 loss in the Bantam division. Brant easily won the other two contests, blanking Berrien, 2-0 in the PeeWee division and ripping Berrien, 11-1, in the Mosquito class.

The hosts swept first place honors in all four classes in rolling up a 315-185 advantage in golf and also took the first-year chess competition by a commanding 314-194 score.

Sue Kunkel tallied 10 points to pace Berrien's girls basketball team to a 51-33 win in the exhibition cage game. All but one player got into the scoring column for the winners.

After losing the first game, 15-13, Berrien won the next three to win the best-three-out-of-five exhibition girls' volleyball games. Berrien won consecutive games by scores of 15-14, 15-4, and 15-11, to win the match.

Garrett pulled down a rebound of a missed free throw and went back up to put in a layup. The only problem was that it was the wrong basket.

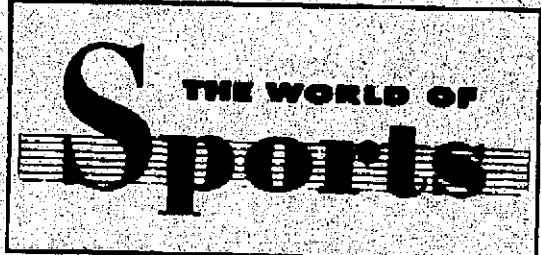

Keith Seahorn's 16 points and Napoleon Redmond's 12 still led the seniors through the double overtime thriller. Mike Howard, of Benton Harbor, scored 14 points in the first game win.

Berrien's biggest margin of victory came in track and field, where the winners finished with an 871.5-575.5 edge.

Maurice Burton claimed two individual victories and also ran the anchor leg of the winning Berrien 400-meter relay team in the boys 17-18 division. Burton captured the 100-meter and 200-meter dashes in speedy times of 11.2 and 22.3 seconds, respectively.

Kim Edwards won three individual events on the girls side of the ledger. Edwards claimed first place honors in 800-meter run (2:58.7), 1500-meter run (6:18.6) and then set one of 16 meet records with a 4' 2" leap in the high jump in the girls 9-11 class.

Nine other Berrien runners captured a pair of individual events. Chris Jones won the 100-meter and 200-meter runs in the girls 14-15 division with

CanAmer Spirit Significant Disabled Participants Still Enjoy Festivities

By JACK WALKDEN
Staff Sports Writer

BRANTFORD, Ont. — The theme of the CanAmer Games is "brotherhood through athletics."

On the front page of the Game's brochure it reads, "The CanAmer Games believe that world peace and understanding among men must begin in men's hearts, that neighbors must understand neighbors before nations can understand nations and the world can live in peace."

For two members of the CanAmer group, this slogan was even more significant. Doug Barnett, a 14-year old basketball player from Galesburg, and Lisa Johnston, an 11-year old gymnast from St. Joseph, were unable to participate in the games here over the weekend because of serious injuries sustained after they had been selected for the event.

The CanAmer Board of Directors still voted to allow both youngsters to make the trip.

Barnett broke his ankle during the late stages of an Olympic game two weeks ago and is bitter about the way it happened. The fact that he was allowed to make the trip helped to take away some of the bitterness.

"There was two minutes left in the game and we were leading by 23 points," Barnett explained. "I went up for a layup and came down, on someone. It not only broke my ankle but it tore ligaments."

"The whole thing was that it was done purposely. The fact that I got to come along kinda eases the pain a little bit."

Lisa's injury was more freakish. While practicing on the vault her hand slipped and she fell and landed on her neck. She fractured her collarbone. It's the type of fracture that a cast cannot be placed on to aid the healing process.

"At first I didn't want to come," Lisa said. "I was mad because I had made the team and I couldn't compete. I'm glad I came, though, because I've had lots of fun."

Barnett had recently moved to Galesburg from Michigan City, Ind. The six-foot, 160-pounder heard about the Games and decided to try out. He plans to try all over again next year.

"It's an all-expense paid trip," he said. "It gives you a great idea of what Canada is like. Too many people think of Canada as a snowbound place. That's certainly the farthest from the truth."

"I've had a home here with some really nice people and I've really enjoyed the weekend. Getting away is better than staying home. I don't have to work. I just do what I want to do for a couple of days."

Both youngsters agreed that the roughest part of the weekend was watching their counterparts perform, knowing they can do nothing to help them.

"It's sorta depressing," Barnett said. "It's a feeling that I can't do anything about, though. The cast will be on for seven weeks. As long as the others are out there trying to win, that's all that counts."

For Lisa, it's still been fun just watching her colleagues put on a gymnastics exhibition.

"It's fun because I know my teammates are doing well," she said. "In some ways it's upsetting because I know I can't do very much."

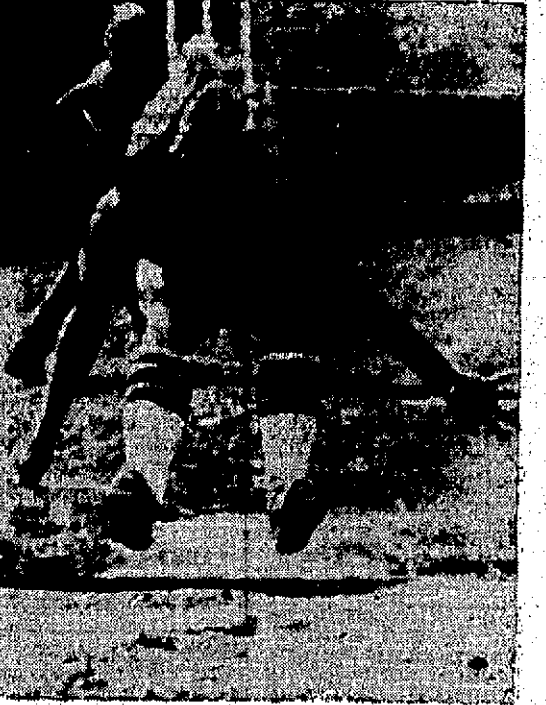

Doug Barnett and Lisa Johnston probably best exemplified the spirit of this year's CanAmer Games. For the two of them, being disabled didn't keep CanAmer from being a success.

BURTON TRIPLE WINNER: Maurice Burton races across the finish line after anchoring the Berrien county 400-meter relay team to victory during Saturday's CanAmer Games. The relay win, which came in a record time of 43.7 seconds, was Burton's third win of the day. He also captured the 100-meter and 200-meter dashes in the boys 14-15 age group. (Staff Photo)

ADKINS JUMPS: Mark Adkins makes his final attempt at clearing 5' 5" in the high jump event at the CanAmer Games Saturday. The bid will end in failure, but Adkins still won the event with a height of 5' 4". (Staff Photo)

ZIEBART SAILS: Jackie Ziebart leaves her feet during the triple jump competition at the CanAmer Games Saturday at Brantford, Ontario, Canada. Ziebart lands after a jump of 8 meters, 77 centimeters, easily the best triple jump of the girls' competition. (Staff Photo)

DEHAM, Mass. — Dayna Hines sank an 18th-hole winner shot from 45 feet to win the 27th U.S. Junior Girl's Championship one-up over challenger Kyle O'Brien Saturday.

OKFIELD, N.S. — Defending champion Debbie Massey of Galesburg, Pa., fashioned a 10-under-par 60 to capture the 10th Saturday in the Canadian Women's Amateur Championship.

NEWTON, N.Y. — Jay Stupp of Niagara Falls Country Club posted a final-round 60 for a one-stroke triumph Sunday in the Porter Cup Amateur Tournament.

TRACK & FIELD

SEVENE, Ore. — Bruce Jones, wearing personal bests in the 100-meters, shot put and discus, won a world decathlon record Sunday, piling up 8,524 points in the U.S.-USSR-Poland invitational meet at Hayward Field.

Battle Creek Captures Zone SH Loses Title Contest

JACKSON — South Haven faltered only once, but it ended up costing the 49ers the American Legion zone title.

Battle Creek scored three runs in the first inning and went on to beat South Haven 4-2 to take the championship Sunday in Jackson. The Southwestern Michigan squad had gained the finals by beating last year's state champ, Jackson, on Saturday by a 5-5 score.

"My biggest worry going into Sunday's game was my pitching," said 49er coach Jim McCoughan. "We had played 27 innings and they had played only 18 innings coming into the game."

American Legion rules state that a pitcher can't pitch more than 12 innings in any two-day period. Dave Gumpert had pitched nine innings and Dan Sherman had six innings to his credit as McCoughan was extremely limited to who he could use.

But Frank Winter came through, having just one bad inning Sunday, but it proved to be South Haven's undoing. The only other run Battle Creek managed was a home run in the fifth inning.

Duane Rogalla started off the two-run seventh for South Haven with a triple. After Mickey Strebek walked and stole second, Tom Cappa singled to drive both in.

South Haven, which ends the season at 27-6, had numerous other chances to score but Battle Creek's defense was up to the challenge. "We had men on first and second with no outs in the eighth, but couldn't score," said McCoughan.

"My best batter, Mike Dorman, came up and bunted one back towards the pitcher who caught it at his shoe locus and doubled Sherman off first."

The 49ers were unable to hit a few other times, too. Cappa hit a hard liner in the first inning that, almost blew the second baseman out of his shoes, but he held onto it. Another time, Battle Creek's third baseman bare-headed a slow roller and threw a South Haven runner out at the plate.

"Our kids kept coming back," commented McCoughan. "We had the opportunities but their defense kept us out of it."

In Saturday's game, South Haven was down 3-1 after three innings but came back, scoring four runs in the fourth and three more in the fifth to put the game away. Dorman drove in a pair of runs with two singles and Rogalla had a two-run triple in the contest that Strebek won.

The 49ers were able to hit the ball all weekend as they collected 17 runs on 30 hits over the four game stretch.

"I think the Blue-Gray league prepared us well for the district and zone tournaments," McCoughan said. "We had some tough competition all year in the league."

Lakeshore Legion, also a member of the Blue-Gray league, won the Connie Mack district in Portage last week but lost its first two games in the state tourney.

PGA Champion Nicklaus Now Eyes Loftier Goals

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — For the world's greatest golfer, the "Year That Jack Nicklaus Gave the Grand Slam Away" will not be one for weeping and the gnashing of teeth.

It will be a year for recharging the batteries and setting the sights on newer and loftier goals.

"If I had won the Grand Slam, I probably would have got out of the game," said Nicklaus after winning his fourth PGA and 16th major title Sunday. "Now I am more determined to continue playing. I like golf. I am a better player than I ever was."

"This is my fourth PGA. Walter Hagen won five. I would like to match that. Nobody ever has won more than four U.S. Opens. I would like to get five. The fact I came close this year only prods my ambition to try to win the Grand Slam."

Nicklaus held off the challenge of Australian Bruce Crampton Sunday over the long Firestone course and won the 57th PGA by two strokes, shooting a final-round 71 for 276. He collected $45,000.

Crampton, trailing three and four strokes most of the day, failed to sink crucial putts on the incoming nine and finished second with a 69 for 278.

Only Crampton threatened — and not very seriously — in the muggy, rain-interrupted showdown over the 7,180-yard, par-70 Firestone layout which the pros have labeled the "Monster."

Tom Weiskopf, Nicklaus' fellow townsman who beat him in a recent playoff for the Canadian Open, had to sink a 20-foot putt on the final hole to finish third with a 68 for 279.

A 25-year-old tour sophomore, Andy North of Gainesville, Fla., slipped past a handful of challengers with a 65 despite a double bogey to grab fourth at 281. Former U.S. Open Champion Hale Irwin, without a single birdie in a round of 73, and veteran Bill Casper tied for fifth with 283.

Some of the game's biggest names tired and fell back. British Open champion Tom Watson had 285. Gary Player and Arnold tied at 291. U.S. Open king Lou Graham shot 296 and Lee Trevino trailed with 297.

It was Weiskopf who suggested that 1975 will be one which Nicklaus might remember with great regret.

"I think he will not soon forget it is the year he gave the Grand Slam away," Weiskopf said. "He should have won the U.S. Open. He did things he never does. He also should have won the British Open."

After winning the Masters, Nicklaus blew the U.S. Open at Medinah by bogeying the last three holes, finishing two shots back. He missed the British Open at Carnoustie by a single shot.

Thus Nicklaus came within three shots of the professional goal of winning the four top events — the Masters, U.S. and British Opens and PGA — in a single year. Ben Hogan won the first three in 1953 and didn't play in the PGA.

However, Nicklaus, in adding his 16th major title, embellishing a record that staggers the imagination and marks him as undoubtedly the greatest golfer of the age, if not of all time.

He boosted his year's prize money to $248,500 — No. 1 in the standings — and pushed his lifetime earnings to $2,482,222.

Raiders Too Much For Lowly Lions

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Coach John Madden seemed intent on reminding his Oakland Raiders that exhibition game scores don't prove much. But Detroit Coach Rick Forzano, after seeing his team beaten 34-0 by the Raiders Sunday, refused to go along with that logic.

"They have an awesome array of players," Forzano said after the mismatch. "Everything they did seemed to work, and nothing we did went right."

The Raiders outgained the Lions 311-115 in total offense and had a 20-6 advantage in first downs in the game which opened preseason play for both National Football League teams.

"Every one seemed to play well," but we'll find some things wrong when we look at the film," Madden said, confidently. "You try not to get pleased this early in the season."

The Raiders used four quarterbacks, starting with Ken Stabler, who played less than one quarter and couldn't have displeased his coach. Last season's NFL Player of the Year completed three of four passes for 66 yards, including a 37-yard touchdown throw to Cliff Branch.

"That was all we planned to use him," Madden said.

Larry Lawrence, last year's backup quarterback, completed 9 of 11 passes for 101 yards and one touchdown before leaving with a knee injury which was not believed to be serious. Morris Bradshaw caught Lawrence's touchdown pass and led Oakland receivers with four catches.

Lawrence said the experience he gained as a rookie last season paid off Sunday.

"I seemed to know what to do when I got in the game," he said, with the statistics backing him up.

The Raiders used almost all of their 75 players. Rookies Neal Colzie, Charles Phillips, and Lewis Carter made important contributions to the victory.

Phillips filled in for injured Jack Tatum at safety and played the entire first half. Carter, a running back from Maryland, completed one touchdown drive by himself after defensive back Colzie from Ohio State returned a punt 10 yards to the Lions' 46-yard line in the second quarter.

On the first play Carter faked a run and first a 38-yard pass to Bradshaw on the Detroit eight. Carter then ran up the middle for the touchdown.

"The coach called the play," the rookie said, of his option pass. "I used the play 11 times my junior year in college, and we scored six touchdowns with it," he added.

Detroit never got close enough to Oakland's goal line to attempt a field goal, with the best offensive effort going to the Raiders' 32.

Forzano, asked if the Raiders had a weakness, said, "If they did, I didn't see it. But that's no excuse for the way we played."

The most serious injury in the game was a concussion suffered by Lions defensive back Jim Thrower. He was run over by Peto Banaszak as he attempted to stop the Raiders' running back on a second quarter touchdown plunge.

Ted Hendricks, the All-Pro linebacker who signed with the Raiders last week, did not play but is expected to get into next Sunday's game here against the NFL champion Pittsburgh Steelers.

Rain Postpones Talladega 500

TALLADEGA, Ala. (AP) — Talladega 500 stock car race officials postponed the seventh annual running of the NASCAR Grand National event Sunday after waiting for nearly three hours for rain to stop.

The race, originally scheduled for 1 p.m. CDT, was rescheduled for this coming Sunday. The rain, which hampered all racing events during the weekend, started about noon, one hour before the green flag was to go up.

Two International Motor Sports Association road races were canceled Saturday because of a wet track at the Alabama International Motor Speedway.

But despite rain on the first turn earlier Saturday, Mark Donohue sped around the 2.06-mile tri-oval in a Porsche at 221.120 miles per hour — setting a world's closed course speed record.

Schoenfeld, Gottfried Win Boys' Titles

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (AP) — California and Florida couldn't lose Sunday in the singles finals of the U.S. Tennis Association Boys 16-18 Tennis Championships.

Howard Schoenfeld, of Beverly Hills, Calif., trimmed John Austin of nearby Rolling Hills, Calif., 6-3, 6-2, 6-2, in the best of five sets 18-and-under final.

Both Schoenfeld and Austin plan to attend UCLA next year. They also have the same personal coach, Paul Cohen.

In the 16-and-under final, Larry Gottfried scored a 6-3, 6-3, victory over Van Witsky. Both attended the same high school in Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., last year but Gottfried soon will move to San Antonio, Tex.

Schoenfeld, the favorite in the 18s category, needed only 91 minutes to defeat Austin, the No. 10 seed, as he relied on a powerful service and strong ground strokes.

The third-seeded Gottfried trailed only after the first game of the match as he defeated the fourth-ranked Witsky for the sixth time in as many meetings with his high school classmate.

In the doubles finals, played Saturday, Tony Giannalva, Houston, Tex., and Bill Scanlon, Dallas, defeated Ben McKown, Lakeland, Fla., and Schoenfeld, 6-4, 6-7, 6-1, in the 18-and-under division.

John McEneaney, Douglasson, N.Y., and Gottfried defeated Jeff Robinson, Salt Lake City, and Witsky, 7-5, 6-3, for the 16-and-under title.

Tiger Tailspin Continues

Three-Run Ninth Lifts Sox Over Birds

From Associated Press
If you were 12 years old, you could cry, said Detroit Manager Ralph Houk.

The Tigers continued their tailspin Sunday, dropping a 4-0 decision to Bert Blyleven and the Minnesota Twins. It was their 15th straight loss, extending the club record, and left them within five games of the all-time record of 20 straight defeats set by Boston in 1902 and tied by the Philadelphia Athletics in 1916 and 1943.

Despite extra batting practice, the Tiger bats managed just 16 base hits and one run in dropping three straight to the Twins.

"We haven't had a day off since the All-Star break, maybe that's the trouble," said Houk. "The bats may be heavy. When you face a pitcher like that, you don't know whether you're hitting or not. Elsewhere in the American League, Kansas City beat Cleveland 3-1. Boston dumped Oakland 3-1. Chicago edged Baltimore 3-2. California blanked New York 1-0 and Milwaukee downed Texas 7-4.

Blyleven, 11-6, limited the Tigers to four singles enroute to his second shutout of the season. Jerry Terrell broke up a scoreless game with a run-scoring double off Ray Bare, 6-7, in the seventh and Rod Carew followed with a sacrifice fly. Phil Roof added a two-run homer for Minnesota in the ninth.

John Mayberry's three-run homer helped Kansas City win for the 14th time in 18 outings under Manager Whitey Herzog and close to within 3 1/2 games of first-place Oakland in the American League East.

It was Mayberry's 26th homer of the season, only two behind Reggie Jackson's league-leading total, and extended his hitting streak to 14 games. Al Fitzmorris, 12-9, bested Eric Raich, 6-7.

Two-run homers by Cecil Cooper and Jim Rice helped Boston raise its lead in the American League East to seven games. Luis Tiant, 14-11, broke a three-game losing streak. Dick Bosman, 7-4, was the loser. Gene Tenace drove in all the Oakland runs with a homer and sacrifice fly.

Brian Downing's homer put Chicago on the scoreboard in the ninth inning Sunday, then Jorge Orta's double gave the White Sox a 3-2 victory over Baltimore, snapping the Orioles seven-game winning streak.

Baltimore's Mike Torrez was cruising along with a four-hitter and a 2-0 lead going into the bottom of the ninth. But when he issued his seventh walk of the game to start the inning, Grant Jackson, 5-3, replaced him.

One out later, Downing belted his seventh home run of the season into the lower deck in left-center field to tie the score. Jackson then fell behind 2-0 to Pat Kelly and was replaced by Ross Grimsley. He completed the walk to Kelly and Orta sent him streaking home with his game-winning double to center.

Ken Singleton's 13th homer, a leadoff shot into the upper deck in right off Jim Kaat in the eighth inning, snapped a scoreless tie. Baltimore made it 2-0 in the ninth when Don Baylor doubled and Brooks Robinson singled to chase Kaat. Rich Cossage, 6-6, got the victory.

Lee Stanton broke up a scoreless ballgame with a run-scoring double in the ninth inning for California. Bill Singer checked the Yankees on four hits before giving way to Mickey Scott, 3-1, in the ninth. Lasey Rudy May, 11-7, went the distance with a four-hitter.

George Scott collected four hits, including his 24th home run, and drove in three runs as Milwaukee snapped a six-game losing streak.

Ashe Taking On Orantes For Clay Court Crown

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — It'll be the power of Wimbledon champion Arthur Ashe against the finesse of Spain's Manuel Orantes when the two meet tonight for the U.S. Clay Court tennis championship.

The lanky, 32-year-old Ashe likes to pin his opponents in the backcourt with one of the fastest serves and forehands in tennis. But he's out of his element on slow surfaces like clay.

Orantes, 26, shorter, but stouter than Ashe and a recognized expert on clay. He's also the man who upset top-seeded Guillermo Vilas of Argentina to get a crack at Ashe and the $16,000 winners' purse.

Orantes perhaps has a psychological advantage over Ashe in that he won the past three meetings — the last being at Montreal on the 1973 World Championship Tennis circuit. He is also second behind Vilas in tennis Grand Prix points while Ashe is fifth.

Nevertheless, Ashe is the reigning Wimbledon champion, has captured the 1975 WCT singles crown and is seeded second in this $150,000 tournament just ahead of Orantes.

Both men have claimed all week that they're in good condition, however. The added strain of four doubles matches may have taken a toll on the handsome Spaniard.

And Ashe has had several difficult singles matches. He needed three sets to beat Brazil's Thomas Koch in the early going and was taken to tie-breakers by both Jaime Fillol of Chile and Onny Parun of New Zealand.

Orantes has whizzed through his end of the singles bracket in straight-set matches, giving up no more than four games to any opponent before upsetting Vilas 6-4, 6-2 in the semifinals Sunday.

While Vilas' streak was ending Sunday, top-seeded Chris Evert was resting after winning her 75th match in a row on clay and her fourth consecutive U.S. Clay Court single title.

Miss Evert pocketed $10,000 and added to her growing list of titles by defeating Australia's Dianne Fromholtz 6-3, 6-4. Miss Fromholtz, who turned 19 Sunday, received a check for $5,000 as runnerup.

Uruguay's Florella Bonicelli and Colombia's Isabel Fernandez won the women's doubles by defeating the top-seeded team of Gail Chanfreau, France, and Julie Heldman, Houston, 3-6, 7-5, 6-3.

Meanwhile, Orantes teamed with fellow Spaniard Juan Gisbert to beat Argentina's Richardo Cano and Chile's Belus Prajoux 7-5, 6-2 and advance to today's final match in men's doubles.

They will meet Wojtek Fibak of Poland and Hans Pohmann of West Germany, winners Sunday over the No. 1-seeded team of Brian Gottfried, Fort Lauderdale, Fla., and Mexico's Raul Ramirez, 6-3, 6-7, 6-4.

Beaver Physicals

EAU CLAIRE — Physical examinations for Eau Claire athletes will be given at 1 p.m. Aug. 18 at Eau Claire high school. There is a $3 fee.

Dowagiac, Bridgman Take Sunday Wins

Dowagiac broke open a 4-4 tie by scoring three runs in the top to the sixth to down St. Joseph 12-5 in a North Lincoln Babe Ruth journey game played at Eaton Park Sunday. In the second game of the day, Bridgman beat Buchanan in eight innings 4-3.

On Saturday, North Lincoln won its third game of the journey, a 6-5, eight-inning affair with St. Joseph and Fairplain won its third game by downing Bridgman 9-2.

Dowagiac's Larry McLaughlin struck out 11 while Charles Brezen had a triple and Dan Weiman struck two singles. Jim Martin and Paul Genovese had triples while Paul Knuth was tagged with the loss.

Bob Weed and Bill Moreland hit triples and winning pitcher Jeff Gallup and Kurt Weber had doubles for Bridgman on Sunday. Rick Layher got the loss.

North Lincoln had to come up with five runs in the sixth inning to tie St. Joseph Saturday. Eric Wolff and Bob Putnam each had a single and an RBI while Tom Gay knocked in a pair of runs and Scott Dennison got the win. Rick Stevens had a home run and a single that drove in two runs. Paul Knuth went three-for-three including two doubles and Jeff Beal had two singles and three RBI's for St. Joe.

Winning pitcher Dave Maxwell, Gary Aber and Gary Polyea knocked in one run and Chris Hecker had a pair of RBI's for Fairplain. Tim Barinka went three-for-three and Bob Weed had two hits and drove in a run for Bridgman.

Dancer Finds New Career Ballet Background Ideal For Horse Trainer

MIAMI, (AP) — Former international ballet star Daphne Edmonds says her dancing background fits perfectly in the career she began this year. She trains race horses.

"I train horses as I would a dancer," said Mrs. Edmonds, currently working with her first horse at Calder Race Track. "Horses and dancers have the same problems... knees and ankles and backs, and they both are performers."

"In the ballet, and in training horses, you must dedicate yourself totally," said Mrs. Edmonds, who performed as a ballerina in Europe, North and South America, and Africa. "It's a 24-hour-a-day job. Even when you sleep you are thinking about your horses."

"I could never be a housewife," added the former star of the Grand Ballet de Marquis de Cuevas in Paris. "Horses come first and last... they are completely dependent on you."

Mrs. Edmonds, born in Nairobi, East Africa, said her love affair with horses began at age 4. "The English cavalry was stationed there," she said. "One day they put me up on a horse named Champagne... he was huge, better than 17 hands. I've been in love with horses ever since."

At age 5, she went to ballet school with a boy who is now Aga Khan.

"Many years later, in France, he let me gallop his horses at his farm," she said. "I danced for 25 years, but I feel I was destined to end up with horses."

She gave up the ballet in 1971 and came to America, where she met and married her second husband, Beau Edmonds, who owns the horses she trains. She had hired George Towne as trainer, but Towne "pushed me into it... I'm very grateful to him."

"Now I have three horses — June Jean, Neekie and Prince O'Terra," she said. "Neekie will be ready to run in about three months and I think she's going to be great."

Mrs. Edmonds appeared in 1952 with Gene Kelly in the film, "Invitation To A Dance." She said Kelly asked her to appear in "Brigadoon," but her ballet company would not release her.

"I was very young and very disappointed," she said. "Had I gone, I'm sure the pattern of my life would have been different. So I really don't regret it."

"I've gone on to do many things, and I've enjoyed them all enormously. If I'd gone to Hollywood, I probably wouldn't be training horses now... and I dearly love what I am doing."

Sutton Nears First 20-Win Campaign

Bonham Stars In Cub Victory

From ASSOCIATED PRESS
Don Sutton is pushing to become a 20-game winner for the first time in his career. The Pittsburgh Pirates aren't pushing anybody at the moment, but the panic button might not be too far off.

Sutton, whose 19-9 records in 1972 and again last year were his winning seasons, became the National League's first 16-game winner this year with a three-hitter that gave the Los Angeles Dodgers a 2-1 victory over the New York Mets Sunday.

The Pirates meanwhile, got pushed around by lowly Houston for the fourth straight time and dropped their fifth straight game, losing 5-3 to the Astros.

In the rest of the NL, Cincinnati blitzed Montreal 11-3, San Francisco walloped Philadelphia 8-1, Chicago beat Atlanta 9-1 and St. Louis defeated San Diego 3-2 in 10 innings.

While the Mets managed only three hits off Sutton, 16-9, in nine innings, the Dodgers got three in the fourth inning alone — all they needed to secure the victory. John Hale's sixth home run of the season started the burst against Hank Webb, then Steve Garvey walked and Ron Cey and Steve Yeager singled for a 2-0 lead. Mike Phillips' single gave New York its run in the bottom of the inning.

Skip Jutze and Tommy Helms knocked in two runs apiece in the victory over Pittsburgh. The Astros put the Pirates away early, punching in four runs in the first inning off Jim Rooker.

"I expect at any moment for the club to break out of the hitting slump," Pirates Manager Danny Mortaugh said. "We haven't pushed the panic button. We're still in first place. We're just having a bad streak now."

The Reds raked Montreal for 16 hits — three apiece by Tony Perez and Johnny Bench — and put the Expos away with four-run bursts in the fifth and eighth innings. George Foster's 19th homer, a three-run shot, upped the latter surge.

Gary Matthews drove in four runs with a pair of homers to power San Francisco past Philadelphia and keep the Phillies from cutting into the Pirates' two-game lead in the NL East. Matthews opened the fourth inning with a solo homer off Dick Ruthven, then slammed a three-run shot off Gene Garber in the seventh.

Righthander Bill Bonham retired the first 12 batters he faced and went on to hurl a five-hitter, and Rick Monday walloped a three-run double as the Cubs buried the Atlanta Braves 9-1 in a rain-delayed game Sunday.

Bonham, 11-8, who was shelled for seven hits and seven runs without retiring a batter against the Phillies in his last appearance, had a perfect game until Earl Williams led off the fifth with a line-drive single to right. He lost his shutout when Mike Lum hit a pinch home run with two out in the eighth.

Blue Moon Odum, 1-3, picked up the loss for the Braves. Monday's big double came in the eighth as the Cubs struck for five runs. Atlanta contributed two errors in the inning.

The Cubs got their first run in the third on Don Kessinger's single. Rick Monday's double and Jerry Morales' ground out.

Bonham singled in the second run in the fifth for Chicago and pinch-hitter Pete LaCock singled home another in the seventh.

The game was delayed 59 minutes by rain after the fifth inning. San Diego took a 2-1 in the top of the 10th on a homer by Tito Fuentes, but Ken Reltz homered in the bottom of the inning to tie it. Mike Tyson then singled, took second on Bake McBride's pinch single and scored on Lou Brock's single that gave the Cards' ace reliever, Al Hrabosky, his 10th victory.

Mrs. Young Gets Revenge

SUNNINGDALE, England (AP) — Revenge on the golf course is sweet, even when you have to wait four years for it.

Back in 1971, in the Sealy Classic at Las Vegas, Sandra Palmer of Dallas was in a sand trap short of the 18th green. She blasted out, dropped the ball right into the hole for an eagle and stole the title by one stroke from Donna Caponi Young.

At Sunningdale Saturday, Mrs. Young, of Los Angeles, got back at last.

She holed from 60 yards with a sand wedge to eagle the 295-yard 11th hole and went on to beat Miss Palmer by two strokes for the European Women's Open crown.

Little Miss Palmer, who stands 5-foot-11½, was the last player in and heard about the stroke when she came off the 18th green. She went straight to her old rival with a smile and a handshake.

"That was a nasty thing to do to a girl," she said. "But you once did it to me, Sandy." Mrs. Young replied sweetly. "Remember?"

Mrs. Young's sand wedge was the shot of the 72-hole tournament.

Her drive from the tee sailed down the middle of the fairway and came to rest on a downward slope.

CONNORS COLLECTS: Jimmy Connors of Belleville, Ill., holds trophy Sunday after winning the $100,000 international tennis tournament at North Conway, N.H. Connors defeated Australia's Ken Rosewall in the final match 6-2, 6-2. (AP Wirephoto)

Billy Hardwick Forfeits Spare; Records 300 Game

JACKSON, N.J. (AP) — Billy Hardwick, Louisville, Ky., who recorded a 300 game during Sunday's final qualifying block of the Jackson Open, actually started his game with a spare before coming through with 12 straight strikes.

The 34-year-old pro bowler began his fourth game of the afternoon session with a spare, only to learn that he had taken his tosses on the wrong lane.

PBA Tournament Director Harry Golden ruled that he had to start his game anew, on the proper lane, and Hardwick promptly came through with a strike. He followed with 11 more as he posted his first 300 in over two years and the 11th of his career.

Connors Beats Rosewall, Cries At Award Ceremony

NORTH CONWAY, N.H. (AP) — Jimmy Connors easily defeated crowd-favorite Ken Rosewall of Australia for the third time since last year, then broke down in tears during the awards ceremony after hearing of a friend's death.

Connors disposed of the veteran 40-year-old Rosewall, 6-2, 6-2, to win the $20,000 first prize Sunday in the final of the weeklong $100,000 international tournament. He also won a car and 60 points in the Grand Prix of tennis.

The 22-year-old top-ranked player of the world was at first glib as he received his check from Gov. Meldrim Thomson. The governor was jeered slightly by the crowd and the controversial Connors quipped that he would be glad to return to New Hampshire next year to help Thomson with his "thage."

Then he mentioned that he had been told minutes before of the death of umpire Gus Lanna of New York. Lanna, 48, officiated at Connors' two "challenge" match victories over Australian Rod Laver and John Newcombe at Las Vegas in February.

Connors began to cry as he spoke of Lanna. He turned away from the audience, sobbed on the shoulder of his manager, Bill Riordan, and then began to leave the outdoor red clay courts as 9,300 fans watched. But he regained his composure and returned to complete the ceremony.

In Sunday's doubles final, Haroon Rahimi of Pakistan and Erik van Dillen upset Australians John Alexander and Philip Dent, 7-6, 7-6.

Connors, the No. 1 seed, took only 50 minutes to beat seeded Rosewall, whom he toppled last year at Wimbledon, 6-1, 6-1, 6-4, and in the U.S. Open final, 6-1, 6-0, 6-1.

The small Aussie, who was playing professional tennis before Connors was born, has only beat his young rival once — three years ago in the Pacific Southwest Open in Los Angeles.

Record Losing Streak Nails Lid On Dismal Tiger Year

DETROIT (AP) — It's all over but the moaning.

The Detroit Tiger baseball season is winding down about the way most critics had expected — with the club in last place.

When the team passed its previous record of 13 consecutive losses, that about nailed the lid on the season's coffin.

The promising rookies and other young players who dominate the rebuilt team have done about as well as could be expected.

However, some fans expected more, optimistically believing the fuzzy-checked charges were somehow capable of challenging for a pennant if they could only get some decent pitching.

The pitching hasn't been as bad as many figured, although it hasn't been strong by any means.

Errors have hurt the most — recorded errors of commission and unrecorded mental mistakes and errors of omission.

The manager usually takes the brunt of the criticism when a team goes sour. Manager Ralph Houk has another year remaining on his contract and there are those who figure he won't finish it, or at least not have his contract renewed.

But have the Tigers really gone sour? When a team is in its infancy, how can it be said that it has gone bad when it's still developing?

General Manager Jim Campbell will undoubtedly get his share of the blame for a last-place finish. Critics will say Detroit should have gradually infused the club with new ballplayers rather than make almost overnight wholesale changes.

It's a valid argument.

Baltimore has consistently been a winner, yet it has mixed its roster liberally with both veterans and youngsters, slowly blending the rookies in a lineup with veterans.

"Naturally, I thought we'd be better as far as win-loss records go," Houk said recently. "But when you are playing that many young ballplayers — well, None of them has failed. Those fellows all played pretty good. You can put any one of those guys on a ballclub with veteran ballplayers and they could be candidates for rookie of the year. You can't expect them all to be Lynn's and kids like that."

Fred Lynn of Boston is the league's second leading hitter, leads in runs batted in and is among the home run leaders as a rookie. Rookie teammate Jim Rice isn't far behind.

They are exceptions. The performances of other rookies shouldn't be judged against theirs to determine success or failure.

Detroit's young players have major league ability and some could develop into stars. It's just that the Tigers didn't have time to wait. They needed to bring them in all at once because they had broomed their veterans and didn't make the gradual transition.

Ron LeFlore, Vern Ruhle, Dan Meyer, Tom Verzyr, Leon Roberts, Billy Baldwin, Ray Bare, Art James, Gene Pentz, John Wockenuss, Jack Pierce, Fernando Arroyo — that's an awful lot of rookies and near-rookies for one team. Throw in Ben Oglivie, who hasn't been around very long, and that's 13 players who could be considered neophytes.

Tiger Stadium will still draw a million fans this year. They're suffering through the season but they're learning the new names and hoping the rewards will come in a couple years.

WFL Not All Roses For Anthony Davis

From ASSOCIATED PRESS

Anthony Davis is learning that life in pro football isn't always a bed of roses.

Davis, one of college football's most glamorous performers and a Rose Bowl star at Southern California the past few years, had a colicking time in his pro debut one week ago. He rushed for 102 yards, caught two passes and completed one in leading the Southern California Sun to victory in its World Football League season opener.

Then came the fall.

At San Antonio Saturday night, the Wings ganged up on Davis and clipped the fleet running back, holding him to just 45 yards on 13 carries. Meanwhile, San Antonio's offense exploded for a 34-22 win.

"San Antonio had a player everywhere I went," Davis lamented afterwards.

And the Wings had lots of players left over for offense, too. Like Billy Sadler and Steve Conley, who each ran for two touchdowns, and Jim Strong, who ran for one. The five TDs on the ground set a WFL record, as did the Wings' five successful action points.

Sun rookie quarterback Pat Raden, a college teammate of Davis, completed 24 of 40 passes for 313 yards, and his team actually outgained the Wings 419-317 in total offense.

The Wings led by only 15-7 at the half, but then Southern California's luck ran out. San Antonio erupted for 31 points in the third period and the rout was on.

Elsewhere in the WFL Saturday night, the Memphis Southern came from behind to beat the Charlotte Hornets 23-11; the Hawaiians nipped the Portland Thunder 25-24; the Birmingham Vulcans trimmed the Philadelphia Bell 23-17, and the Shreveport Steamers set a club

Smith Holds Slim Youth Golf Lead

AIR FORCE ACADEMY, Colo. (AP) — Rick Smith, a 17-year-old Pittsburg, Penn., golfer, continued to hold the lead in the National Association of Insurance Agents Youth Golf Classic Sunday.

The tournament, being played at the U.S. Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, concluded its second day Sunday.

Smith took the lead in the tournament after the first-day play, then held on Sunday with a 36-hole total of 141. Smith carded seven birdies Saturday for a five-under-par 67, but shot a two-over-par 74 Sunday.

Jeff Smith of Oskaloosa, Iowa, was second at 142 and there was a three-way tie for third at 144 with Erick Dutt, Las Vegas, Nev.; Chris Houchin, Bakersfield, Calif.; and Rick Grover, Grandville, Mich.

record for points in defeating the Chicago Winds 38-18.

Memphis, down 11-0 at half-time, got one touchdown from each of its three former Miami Dolphins stars and pulled out the victory.

Larry Csonka, who rushed for 114 yards, and Paul Warfield each snared 10-yard, scoring passes in the third period from John Huarte, then Jim Kikic capped the comeback with a two-yard TD run.

The Hawaiians scooped up three Portland fumbles and returned them all for touchdowns in their one-point squeaker. "It feels like we were snakebit or something," said Portland quarterback Don Horn, who committed two of the fumbles.

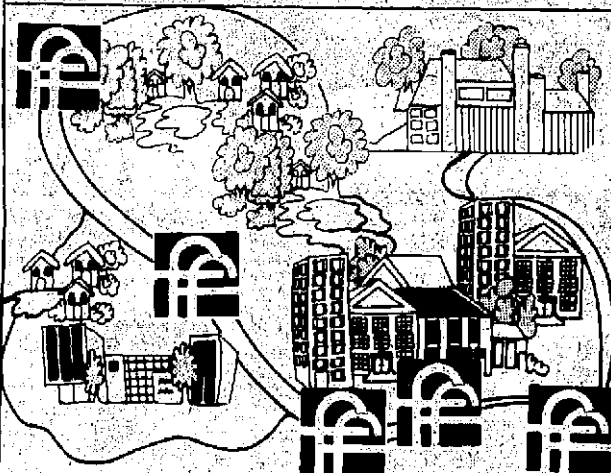

Quarterback Matthew Reed ran for touchdowns of 24 and 10 yards in the final quarter to carry Birmingham to victory.

Rookie wide receiver Ricky Seales caught touchdown passes of 47 and nine yards to highlight a 21-point fourth quarter for Shreveport.

Attendance at the five WFL games was 80,000. Birmingham and San Antonio attracted an estimated 21,000 each, Memphis had 18,729, Shreveport 10,661 and Portland 7,709.

NEWS OF MARKETS

Market Edges Lower

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market edged lower again today, troubled by further increases in key interest rates.

The opening Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was off more than a point and losers took a narrow lead over gainers on the New York Stock Exchange.

Shortly before the market opened, Chase Manhattan Bank and First National Bank of Chicago increased their prime lending rates a quarter point to 7 1/2 per cent. They thus followed the example of First National City Bank, which Friday became the first major bank to boost its base lending rate to big corporate borrowers to that level.

Brokers also reported some nervous anticipation over a report expected later today from the government on expected U.S. wheat and feed grain harvests. Depending on those estimates, traders will likely draw conclusions on the outlook for food prices and for inflation in general.

Walt Disney declined 5/8 to 40 1/2. International Telephone & Telegraph Corp. lost 3/4 to 20 1/4. U.S. Steel, which announced a price rise on its mill products Friday, declined 5/8 to 62 3/4.

In Friday's mixed session, the Dow Jones industrial average climbed 1.95 to 817.74, but issues dropping in price led gainers by nearly a 2-to-1 margin on the New York Stock Exchange.

The Big Board's composite stock index fell 0.18 to 45.92 on turnover of 11.06 million shares, the quietest since last Dec. 24.

On the American Exchange, the market value index slipped 0.48 to 85.86.

Van, Trailer Willing To Spend' Plunge Off Overpass

BRIDGMAN — A van truck pulling a boat-laden trailer plunged onto Red Arrow highway from the I-94 overpass just south of here Saturday morning, injuring three young Illinois men.

State police from New Buffalo said the accident occurred about 8:40 a.m. when the truck first bounced into a guard rail, careened across the median and then crashed through the guard rail on the other side, plunging off the overpass.

According to police, the weight of a boat and trailer being pulled by the truck kept the vehicle from slamming into Red Arrow nose first. The vehicles landed on their wheels.

Police said William Johnson, 21, Champaign, driver of the truck, told him he apparently fell asleep, causing the truck to go out of control.

Johnson was listed in good condition this morning at Memorial hospital in St. Joseph. Two van passengers also injured in the 8:40 a.m. crash were treated and later released from Memorial.

They were identified as brothers Mark, 20, and Norman Pittman, 21, both of Decatur, Ill.

Police said no traffic tickets were issued.

U-M PROFESSOR:

'Americans More Willing To Spend'

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — American consumers are beginning to show a willingness to spend more money, according to a former Nixon economic advisor.

Paul W. McCracken, former chairman of the Council of Economic Advisors, said today the United States is embarking on a period of resumed economic expansion.

McCracken said if the expansion is properly managed, it could last a long time, and that would "save some energy that ought to become available for attention to more fundamental problems" in the American economy.

The professor of business at the University of Michigan said in the quarterly Economic Outlook USA that some caution is still needed in assessing the current economic situation. For example, he said, the world economy is not apt to show a rapidly growing demand for U.S. goods; housing industry growth has been weak this year; and there is little reason to expect a fast turnaround in capital outlays.

"In spite of all this, the weight of accumulating evidence suggests that the economy is establishing itself once again on a rising trend," McCracken said.

The expansion of consumer spending was boosted by tax reductions earlier this year, McCracken said. Those rebates increased after-tax private incomes by an estimated $2 billion dollars, the economist said.

He cited leveled off employment figures in the first quarter and "marked deceleration" in the inflation rate as contributing to consumer confidence.

McCracken said a continued strong consumer demand would result in new orders, stepped up production and, ultimately, increased inventories.

A spokesman for the importer said SATRA plans to apply for federal government certification around Sept. 1 in preparation for selling the car here next spring. He said the exhaust tests — which will take about four months — should begin Sept. 15 on two models.

'Dumping' Denied By VW

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
The manufacturer of the Volkswagen, traditionally the No. 1 selling imported car in the United States, has denied that its cars were being "dumped" on the U.S. market at less than fair value. British Leyland also denied the dumping charges. The denials came on Saturday after the U.S. Treasury Department announced Friday that it is launching a so-called dumping investigation into whether foreign cars are being priced unfairly and hurting domestic automakers.

Steel Hits Low

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Steel production hit a three-year low in July, but Industry Week magazine said producers are heartened by increasing demand from consumer-oriented markets such as appliances and automotive.

The industry's weekly estimates that July output at the nation's mills totaled 8,563,000 net tons in July, "the lowest monthly output since November 1971." For June, total production was estimated at 8,744,000 net tons.

IW said in this week's issue that good news on ordering is coming from producers of sheet and strip steel. One major steel company was quoted as reporting that two weeks ago, orders for August and September delivery were showing a 5 to 10 per cent increase, on a month-to-month basis.

"Now, the same company reports current order entry indicates that September will be 25 per cent better than July, which will be the low month of the year," for the steel industry in general.

BRITISH VERSION IS 'LAUNDERED'

'Ava' Gets Full Treatment In U.S.

Q: What did Ava Gardner think of Charles Hingham's book about her? — E.T., New York, N.Y.

A: She hated it and got an injunction to have it laundered in the British version (libel laws are tougher over there). You can still read everything she hated about "Ava" in the U.S. edition.

QUESTION YOU NEVER ASKED: Why will we probably be seeing a more charming President Ford on our TV screens soon? Well, the White House summoned voice coach and personality teacher Dorothy Sarnoff down recently. Ms. Sarnoff has worked miracles for a host of people in the public eye. Be interesting to see what she does for The Prez.

Cukor as director of "Gone With the Wind"? — T.L., Los Angeles, Calif.

A: You're right. Cukor was replaced by Victor Fleming when Selznick saw how unhappy his indispensable star, Clark Gable, was over the direction. But Cukor never held hard feelings. Incidentally, strangest thing about that tribute was the presence of producer Joyce Selznick. David O. must have turned in his grave since he once took an ad to deny kinship with this adopted daughter of a relative.

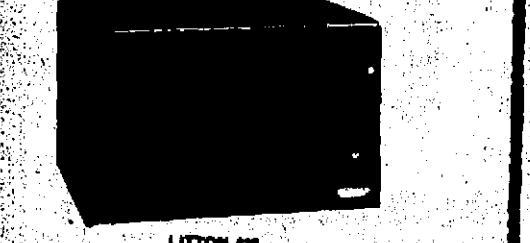

Q: Is it true Liz Taylor's eldest son Michael won't have anything to do with her? — G.R., Bronx, N.Y.

A: No. The star is close to all four of her kids and now frequently visits Michael, his new girl friend and their new baby girl, near London. Michael has given Elizabeth two granddaughters.

Q: I saw a news photograph of Oliver Reed and he looked much heavier to me. Was that just the picture? — E.B., Lawrence, N.Y.

A: Reed has a weight problem and as he gets older he finds it harder and harder to lose the extra pounds before he does a movie. He has a film scheduled with Karen Black and will need to do a lot of dieting before they start shooting to get rid of his enormous beer belly. Reed knows this and figures he'll have to either retire from movies or start playing character parts rather than romantic leads.

Q: Is it true that Liz Minnelli has the same temperament as her mother? — T.R., Terre Haute, Ind.

A: We don't really think Liz and Judy Garland are much alike. Liz is much less neurotic and more easy going. Liz's father says, "You know, I see less and less of Judy in Liz. Liz is stable."
